CLASSES STARTED IN CIVIL DEFENSE WARDEN TRAINING

A larger than expected group of future block wardens attended the opening sessions of civil defense training classes held this week at the elementary schools in four communities of the township. Six other communities will hold their first sessions within the week.

The block warden training program is designed to teach what to do and how to do it in the event of atomic bombing or any other major disaster. The program is under the direction of the township civil defense committee headed by Bruce Michael of Warm Springs and is being coordinated by Warren E. Gravestock of Centerville and Lt. Stanley Peterson of the sheriff's force. Officers from the sheriff's sub-station, under Captain R. E. (Dick) Condon, are the instructors.

NOT CRITICAL AREA

Although Washington Township is not in a critical bombing area, officials pointed out, it is adjacent to stragetic areas that might be object to bombing attacks. The people of the township should therefore be ready to offer assistance and aid evacuees. Recent floods have also pointed out the need for a well organized disaster relief program.

The meetings held this week, the first of a series of four weekly sessions, were conducted at Alvarado on Monday; Newark, Tuesday; Centerville, Wednesday, and Decoto on Thursday. Tonight's meeting will be at the Barnard School for the Hillview Crest residents.

Classes scheduled next week are: Niles, Monday, March 3; Irvington, Tuesday, March 4; Warm Springs, Wednesday, March 5; Mission San Jose, Thursday, March 6; and at Alviso on Friday, March 7. All groups will meet each successive week on the same day as their initial meeting.

SHERIFF'S FORCE INSTRUCTS

Instructors in addition to Captain Condon will be Lieutenants Stanley Peterson and J. J. Sheehan, Sergeant William H. Hildebrand, and Detective Everett King.

The first meeting dealt with methods of defense in modern warfare. Other subjects to be covered in the course include psychological warfare, the block wardens service in civil defense and the Civil Defense Organization with a final review and instructions.

The general public is invited to attend these meetings. The classes are held in the evening from 7:30 to 9:30. Members of the several fire departments are particularly invited though their duties will not permit them to be designated as block wardens.

APRICOT GROWERS MEET

The Apricot Growers' Association meeting, originally scheduled for earlier in the week, was held last night (Thursday) at the Washington Union High School.

VET PROPERTY TAX INFORMATION GIVEN

Veterans wishing to take advantage of their allowed exemptions under the personal property tax must have their exemption certificates validated, Joe Janeiro of Niles, Veterans service officer, has announced. Exemption certificates have already been mailed to veterans who have made application for them.

To assist veterans in validating their exemption certificates, Marston Dassel, deputy assessor, will be at the Veterans Memorial building in Niles March 10 through March 14, between the hours of 7 and 9 p.m. Dassel is authorized to validate the exemption certificates. The validation must be done by a person authorized to administer oaths and must be completed before the last Monday in May.

Veterans who have not applied for property tax exemption certificates must apply at the Alameda County Court House in Oakland if they desire to claim the allowed exemption.

GRIMMER TO ERECT OFFICE BUILDING

Ground was broken this week for a new professional building to be erected on the Niles side of the new county building by Dr. E. M. Grimmer Jr., to house his own dental offices and the offices of Dr. Edwin Yee, optometrist. It will face Martha Street.

The building will be a one-story structure, consisting of 1758 square feet of floor space. R. A. Griffin, Irvington contractor, is the builder.

Plans call for an eight-room building of California ranch style architecture. The exterior will be of stucco, with tile roof, and trimmed with brick planting boxes.

Dr. Grimmer's present offices are located on Main Street in Centerville.

The building will be completed, if everything goes according to schedule, in 90 days.

PHONE OFFICE IN DECOTO OPEN SOON

The new $191,000 Pacific Telephone and Telegraph office building in Decoto should be completed and in operation this spring, S. D. Smith, Pacific Telephone manager, stated this week.

Installation of new equipment has already commenced and work is progessing on line extension within the exchange. In addition to the new cable to Hayward, other line construction projects will get underway soon with completion expected before the end of the summer.

New telephone numbers for all Decoto telephone subscribers will be required to work with the new equipment, Smith said. The new numbers will be included in a new directory to be issued just prior to the change over.

Telephones in the Decoto area have increased 300 per cent in the last ten years, it was pointed out.

JOAN VERVAIS WINS GIRLS' STATE VOTE

Joan Vervais, popular young coed in the junior class at Washington High, was this week selected to be the girl sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary to attend the annual Girls' State in Sacramento.

The selection of a girl is made each year by the advisors and teachers at Washington High who supervise the members of the junior class. The girl is chosen on the basis of scholarship, leadership, citizenship, interest in government, and high morals.

Joan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Vervais of Niles, is very active in school affairs. Among other things she is this year's editor of the school paper, the Hatchet, is a member of the Girls' Block "W" Club, and is also a member of the Student Council.

Her activities outside of school include membership in the Tangle and Twist Junior Rifle Club and the Rainbow Girls.

WALTON REVIEWS CHAMBER PLANS FOR THIS YEAR

Committees of the Washington Township Chamber of Commerce will not be named until member Chambers have designated their representatives for the current year, Allan E. Walton of Centerville, president, announced this week. Walton was installed as the Township Chamber's third president at its regular monthly meeting last week. Eight local Chambers of Commerce name representatives each year to the township association.

The number of committees may be cut, Walton indicated, but no decision on this will be made until after a review of the member groups' plans and policies for the ensuing year is completed.

Other officers installed last week were Peter Juhl of Niles, vice-president; Harry Weber of Centerville, treasurer, and Vernon Ellsworth, secretary. Col. Eugene E. Manning continues as executive secretary of the Chamber.

REVIEW SCHOOL ISSUE

Highlight of the meeting was an exchange of views relative to the proposed consolidation of elementary schools within the township, one of the projects under consideration.

"It is the desire of the Chamber of Commerce," Walton stated, "to have the parents and teachers groups conduct a survey and report to us their findings and opinions. We need to have the facts and opinions of all concerned before we decide on a policy."

Those present voted to continue their efforts toward the completion of two projects previously undertaken. The first, a plan to establish a district refuse dump, has made little progress because of the opinion of some members of the district sanitary boards that services now provided are adequate. The Chamber went on record to find an adequate sight for dry refuse.

FLOOD CONTROL PLAN

The second plan, to obtain the services of the U. S. Army Engineers in conducting a flood control survey, was approved and letters sent to members of Congress urging an appropriation be voted for the survey.

Committee reports were read, one informing the Chamber that the Alameda County Planning Commission, of which R. J. Wright of Irvington is chairman, has approved the proposal of preparing a tentative zoning ordinance for the entire township. The eight Chambers of Commerce in the area will be asked to prepare drawings of the zones they desire in their localities.

Paul Gygax of Newark reported that the expected decrease in toll fares on the Dumbarton Bridge has not materialized. The Township Chamber has supported the state in its negotiations to purchase the two lower bay bridges in anticipation of a cut in toll prices. Instead, Gygax reported, there has actually been an increase in some of the rates.

Final business of the meeting was the approval of a $50 a month increase in the salary of the executive secretary and the installation of a plaque at the County Building bearing the names of the past presidents of the Washington Township Chamber of Commerce.

FATHER CONCANNON GIVEN NEW PARISH

Father James Concannon, who has been pastor of St. Edward's Church, Newark, since 1949, has been appointed pastor of Our Lady of Lourdes Church at Hunter's Point. Rev. Concannon left Newark Thursday for his new parish.

Succeeding Father Concannon will be Father Raymond Daly, formerly from Calistoga.

NO ELECTION FOR DISTRICT WATER BOARD

Dr. E. M. Grimmer Sr. of Irvington and Louis Amaral of Centerville filed this week as candidates for the Alameda County Water District Board. Both men are incumbents. No opposition candidates filed, making their election to that board automatic.

CENTERVILLE C. OF C. SEEK NEW MEMBERS

Seven new members joined the Centerville Chamber of Commerce last week, it was announced at the regular meeting of the association held Monday. A membership drive is under way to obtain as active participants the 91 potential members in the community.

Dr. E. M. Grimmer Jr., outgoing president, presided. New officers will be installed at the luncheon meeting next Monday, March 3, at the Do-Nut Nook.

The Chamber heard a report from Harry W. Weber on the monthly meeting of the Township Chamber and a proposal by Col. Gene Manning for a clean-up campaign of the town's main streets. The group approved a plan to call to the attention of the State Highway Department the condition of the streets and, failing action by them, to solicit the assistance of the local business men.

SOMETHING NEW IN WEEKLY CONTEST

At last the female sex is coming into its own—at least here in Washington Township — and this week, instead of having our mystery MAN of the week, we're having a mystery WOMAN of the week.

If you can't guess who this interesting woman is, read through the pages of this issue of The Register. You will find the answer.

She, her sister and her brother, came to Niles with their parents in 1883.

They were met at the Niles depot by a stagecoach.

Her father was one of California's earliest insurance men.

Her brother and her future husband, and she, herself, all went to high school in Centerville together. Both her brother and her husband later became football stars at the University of California.

When she met her husband—in high school—it was "love at first sight."

Her marriage was delayed because she fell from a run-away horse and was laid up for over a year, being unable to walk in all that time.

She and her husband went to Alaska in 1902, and it was this trip, and other successive trips to Alaska, that she deems the highlight of her whole life. "I had everything I wanted in the way of romance—Indians, stormy seas, blizzards, and even a fortune."

Her husband, a mining engineer, died in 1914 from the result of an injury on a tram accident.

Her hardships began after that time.

She returned to the States after having lived for almost 14 years in the far north. There is a little town in Alaska which bears her family name.

She is best known in the bay area, perhaps, for her promotion of the Sunnyvale Airbase, a project which she envisioned and which she saw completed.

Her uncle was the late Major Tilden, founder of Oakland's famed park which bears his name.

Because she had no children herself, she became active in child welfare and devoted almost a quarter of a century to an organization which devotes itself to the care of children.

During the depression, when she, in common wth many others, experienced financial hardships, she established her own business, a business from which she had to retire only a short time ago because of poor health.

Guess Who!

OSSANA CLEARED IN SHOOTING CASE

James Ossana, Newark resident, was found not guilty by a Superior Court jury of charges of assault with a deadly weapon in the shooting last August 25 of LeRoy Burston, also of Newark. The jury returned its verdict last week after hearing the defense attorney argue that the shooting was justified.

The shooting, which occurred in Newark, climaxed a neighborhood feud.

NILES WOMAN WINS CASE AGAINST OKLAHOMA TOWN

Mrs. Nellie Talley of Niles, who suffered a skull fracture and brain injury two years ago, July 4, 1949, when she was visiting in Holdenville, Oklahoma, has won her case against the city of Holdenville in the Oklahoma State Supreme Court and has been awarded a $5,000 judgment.

Mrs. Talley stepped out of her car on that fateful night two years ago into an unprotected drainage ditch. She won her case against the city of Holdenville at that time. The city subsequently took it to the Supreme Court, and again lost.

Mrs. Talley received the news of her judgment when she returned to Oklahoma two weeks ago into an unguarded drainage where I fell," she said this week, "and it is still unguarded!"

Since her injury, Mrs. Talley has suffered severe headaches. Her judgment of $5,000, which will be increased by interest computed from two years ago (her first judgment), does not begin to repay her for the pain she has endured, she said this week.

Her condition was so critical during the first few days after her fall that she wasn't expected to live. She was brought home to California by plane, to be put under the care of specialists.

NILES WOMAN WINS $7500 JUDGMENT

Mrs. Dorothy Poole, wife of Roy L. Poole of Niles, was awarded a $7,500 judgment against John H. Parker of Los Angeles as a result of an auto accident in May, 1950, in which Mrs. Poole was seriously injured. Mrs. Poole's father, Harold Barker of San Jose, was awarded $113 special damages.

The case was heard in the Superior Court in Oakland and judgment was given Wednesday.

The accident occurred on Highway 101 near Morgan Hill when Parker's car struck the automobile in which Mrs. Poole was riding. She suffered fractures of the pelvis and hip and deep facial lacerations.

PLAN DINNER FOR IRVINGTON C. OF C.

Appointment of the Irvington Chamber of Commerce's three delegates to the Washington Township Chamber was announced this week at the Irvington Chamber's regular meeting. Plans for the installation dinner next Tuesday were also made known.

Jack Prouty, A. E. (Tony) Alameda and Allan Hirsch were named as delegates to the township chamber. They will serve as Irvington's representatives during the current year.

One hundred announcements of the installation dinner to be held March 4 at 7 p.m. were mailed to township business men this week. An evening's entertainment is being planned with Tony Alameda acting as master of ceremonies. Judge Allen G. Norris will be the installing officer.

The spaghetti and raviola feast will be prepared under the personal supervision of Jack Prouty and Walter Roethlin.

The banquet will be held at the Roethlin Cafe in Irvington.

NO CONTEST FOR FIRE DEPT. POSTS

There will be no election contest this year in three of the township's fire commissioner districts. No opposition candidates filed to oppose the incumbents seeking re-election in Newark, Niles and Decoto.

In Decoto, A. A. Amaral, and in Niles, Leon Solon, both incumbents, filed without opposition.

In Newark, Ray C. Springer was the only candidate to file by the deadline date midnight Monday. Springer had only recently been appointed to the board to fill the vacancy caused by the death of J. D. Silva, who had been a member for 32 years. Silva's term was to have expired this April.

Quaresma Will File; Judgeship Race Seen

COURT HEARS SIX CASES THIS WEEK

One man was sentenced to six months in the county jail, two fined, two placed on probation and the case against another was postponed during Tuesday's session of the Justice Court. Judge E. A. Quaresma presided.

Pleading guilty to wife beating, Albert Lee Thompson of Niles was sentenced to six months confinement.

Chester W. Russell of Niles was fined $125 for driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. Tom Gellerman of Niles was fined $200 also on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Probation for one year on a $50 fine was given John Quiroz on an assault and battery charge. Also placed on probation was Manuel Fernandez, a resident of the Peninsula area, who pleaded guilty to breaking into a Decoto dwelling. Fernandez claimed he was only attempting to recover a misplaced raincoat.

Delay was granted until March 4 in the case of Felix Mesa of Decoto to enable him to obtain the services of an attorney. He is charged with attempted burglary

SHERIFFS AID IN 'WETBACK' ARRESTS

Officers from the County Sheriff's sub-station lent assistance to U. S. Immigration authorities in the apprehension of 25 "wetbacks" in Irvington this week. The 25 were taken to Santa Rita Prison Farm to await deportation to Mexico.

The men were apprehended by U. S. Immigration Inspectors Frank H. Sylvester and George L. Sheldon, both from San Francisco. The men were eating dinner with some 25 other men near the Southern Pacific depot in Irvington when apprehended. All were employed as section hands by the railroad.

In a statement issued shortly after the arrests, railroad officials said it was not their policy to check employees as to their having proper entry certificates to this country. Mexican workers not legal residents of the U. S. are required to carry with them at all times properly authorized entry certificates.

The men will be held at Santa Rita for a short processing period before being deported. Officials stated it was a matter of conjecture as to how long before the majority of the men returned again to this country to seek employment.

150 ATTEND FARM BUREAU DINNER

One hundred and fifty guests attended the Washington-Eden Farm Bureau turkey dinner Tuesday evening at Washington Union High School. Chairman of arrangements was Richard Johnson Jr. of Warm Springs.

The dinner guests warmly applauded the guest speaker, Bert Buzzini, radio director for the California Farm Bureau. He spoke on "Freedom" and pointed out that it was truly a real fight we are engaged in to maintain our freedom.

Master of ceremonies for the evening was Rasmus Jensen of Pleasanton, president of the Alameda County Farm Bureau Association. Assisting Johnson on the committee for arrangements were Manuel Abreu of Centerville and Earl Wallace of Warm Springs.

A varied program was presented during the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Robert King of Concord sang duets with Mrs. King at the piano. A new auto tire was the door prize, won by Mr. E. J. Deluce of Centerville.

The possibility of a contest for the judgeship of the Washington Township Justice Court in the June elections appeared more likely when Judge E. A. Quaresma of Mission San Jose stated he will file today (Friday) a declaration to become a candidate.

Judge Allen G. Norris of Centerville filed Tuesday.

This year's election is for but one judge for the district, due to the recent enactment of the municipal court reorganization law which provides for only one judge of the justice court in the township. Previously the township had been divided into two court districts.

However, the filing of a declaration to become a candidate is only the first step in becoming an actual candidate. It allows a person additional time to file as an official candidate which is done by filing formal nomination papers bearing the signatures of the candidate's sponsors. Nomination papers must be filed between March 4 and March 24.

STILL NOT CERTAIN

In a statement to The Register, Judge Quaresma indicated he had not definitely decided to file officially as a candidate and was filing his declaration of intention to run only to allow him additional time in which to consider the matter.

Judge Norris, also in a statement to The Register, indicated that he was definitely remaining in the contest as a candidate and would file nomination papers. He stated that if elected he would serve conscientiously and to the best of his ability.

There was no indication late last evening that any other candidate would file a declaration of intent to run. Today is the last day for filing such a declaration which must be done before a person is eligible to file nomination papers.

ACTIVE LOCALLY

Both judges are active in numerous civic and fraternal organizations in the township.

Judge Norris has been president of the Oakland Area Boy Scout Council for five years. He is vice-president of the local Community Chest committee, clerk for the Board of Trustees of the Centerville Grammar School and secretary of the Centerville Fire District Commission. He has served as an officer of the Centerville Lions Club and the Washington Parlor of the Native Sons of the Golden West.

Judge Quaresma is a past president of the Alvarado Eagles, the Niles Rotary Club and the Niles Chamber of Commerce. He has also served as supreme president of the I.D.E.S. Lodge and is active in other fraternal organizations. For three years he was a U. S. representative to Brazil in the government's Foreign Economic Administration.

SPORTS

BASKETBALL MEET SET FOR MONDAY

The annual sectional basketball tournament between the Future Farmers of America teams will be played Monday night at 7 p.m. in the gymnasium of the Washington Union High School.

Competing in the play-off schedule will be teams from Livermore, Pleasanton, Hayward, Half Moon Bay and Washington Township.

The event is an annual affair. Last year's winner was the Washington cagers, who hope to retain permanently the sectional silver trophy by repeating another win.

Trumpeter swans are protected by international, federal and state laws.

HUSKIES DOWNED IN PRACTICE GAME

In a practice game played on February 19, the Bellarmine Bells defeated the Huskies 51-40. This win for the Bells was a revenge for a game played early in the season in which the Huskies defeated the Bells 51-49.

The Washington B's defeated the Bell B's in the preliminary game 34 to 25.

The Huskies were trailing by 10 points at the half and had climbed to within three points at the end of the third quarter, but were not able to catch the red-hot Bells.

High for the Huskies was Lloyd "Chub" Davis with 13. High for the Bells was Dick Venezia with 19.

The Washington B's had little trouble with their opponents as they defeated them for the second time. Scoring honors went to Raul Orozco with 10.

NILES MEN CATCH SALMON OFF GATE

Three Niles anglers enjoyed a fishing trip outside the Golden Gate Monday and returned with the allowed limit of salmon. The three are Dutch Cazier, Robey Pierce and Harley Gibson. Cazier had the largest catch by hooking a fifteen-pounder.

The men made the trip out to sea in a 46-foot heavy diesel powered boat with Jimmie Vitero of Oakland as skipper.

HUSKIES VICTORS IN S.C.V.A.L. CONTEST; IN TIE FOR FIRST

With the aid of their fast break, and deadly shooting from the floor, the Washington Huskies trampled the Campbell Buccaneers 61-34 in an S.C.V.A.L. contest recently.

The Washington B's were defeated in the preliminary game by the Buc B's, 30-27.

By virtue of this win the Huskies move into a tie for first place with the Live Oak Acorns. The Huskies, who have a 5-1 record in league play, have been defeated only by Live Oak in their first league game of the season.

The Bucs, who are in the cellar of the league, gave the Huskies no trouble at all. The locals jumped off to an 18-11 lead at the end of the first quarter and led 36-20 at the half. Jim Bolivia and Lloyd "Chub" Davis led the Huskies in the first half as they racked up 25 between them.

In the second half Washington kept up the trouncing. Even the Huskie reserves kept up the scoring as they played most of the fourth quarter.

The Huskies, who play Los Gatos tonight in the cracker box Gatos gym, practiced their stall in the fourth quarter in anticipation of the game tonight.

High point men were Davis and Bolivia with 18 and 17, respectively. High for the Buccaneers was Jack Harris with 24.

The Washington B's, by virtue of this loss, have dropped to sixth place in the league.

Both teams played sloppy ball throughout most of the game except in the third quarter when the Bucs caught fire and took a commanding lead.

High point man for the B's was Raul Orozco with 13.

The game tonight will climax one of the most successful seasons in the history of Washington basketball. The Huskies, who at the beginning of the season were picked for a fourth or fifth place, through hard work and the will to win, has made them a top notch ball club. If the Huskies win tonight they will have cinched at least a tie for first place.

4-H CLUBS TO HAVE DISPLAY IN STORES

The 4-H Club will observe National Club Week, March 3 to 8, with an electrical and sewing project display in the Ellsworth building, Niles, according to Miss Doris Brooks, president.

At the community meeting held in the school auditorium Monday night, the beef and sewing project groups gave the demonstrations. Tommy Logan reported on the progress of the calf he is raising, Don Mackintosh reported on the three best types of beef cattle under study by the group, and Billy Granger, assisted by Don Mackintosh, demonstrated the process of making a calf halter from rope.

Shirley Roderick and Gerlene Tennison conducted the sewing project demonstration, and had on display as results of their efforts, sewing boxes, head scarfs and beach bags.

The next meeting of the club, March 24, will feature a poultry demonstration, and there will be a guest speaker.

Games were enjoyed by all the youngsters following the meeting.

LICENSE SUSPENDED

The California State Department of Motor Vehicles announced the suspension of only one driver's license in Washington Township last week. The person effected was R. T. Arenas, Decoto, whose license was suspended for a nine-month period.

Say you saw it In The Register.

PUBLIC INVITED TO IRVINGTON SHOW

The Irvington P.T.A. is planning its annual ladies night, an evening of fun and frolic for the whole community, to be held on Thursday night, March 6. There is no admission charge. Everyone is invited, and everyone is guaranteed a good time.

After the meeting is called to order by President Mrs. Martha Stone, the evening will be turned over to the program chairman, Mrs. Irma Belding, and Barbara Krueger, talented young mistress of ceremonies, will carry on from there.

Scheduled to appear on the evening's show is the hilarious "Oakie" team, which will provide plenty of laughs. Those who plan to be in the audience will also be happy to hear that the town's lovely young vocalist, Miss Rosalind Rogers, will appear between scenes.

One of the highlights of the evening will probably be an old-fashioned "car" on display. Inasmuch as this is an animated car, those in charge of production assure the public that they will get several "bangs" out of this old jalopy.

Also slated to appear are the hill-billies who will forsake their haunts in the Mission Hills to make one of their rare appearances in the city.

Climaxing it all will be the hula dancers, whose costumes are said to be surpassed only by their dancing.

In its refined form, lanolin is the basis for many medicinal preparations and cosmetics.

Golden Gate Park in San Francisco contains 1013 acres.

CRASH VICTIM HAS RELATIVES HERE

He commuted daily to San Francisco from Oakland for 40 years, to his job as supervisor of the shipping department of the American Seating Company, without so much as a minor scratch from any sort of accident.

Riding on the ill-fated Key System bus that crashed recently in Oakland, however, he was the sole passenger, out of 52, who met death.

This is the account of the untimely death of Joseph W. Quadros, 70, who was known in Washington Township not only because of his work, which brought him to this area frequently, but because many of his surviving relatives live here.

Born on Blacow Road, Irvington, the deceased had made his home in Oakland for many years.

Working with the American Seating Company as he had for so many years, he had gained many friends in this area and became well known in connection with his work here in schools, halls and theaters.

He is survived by his widow, Frances, of Oakland; by two daughters, Bernice Coe of Lodi and Evora Rockwell of Oakland; by two sisters, Mary Francis of Centerville and Angeline Quadros of Centerville; and by the following nieces and nephews: Velma Lewis of Centerville, Ethel Francis of Centerville, Alvin Joseph of Hayward, Bernie Joseph of Decoto, and Vivian Stutt of Oakland. There are many other surviving relatives.

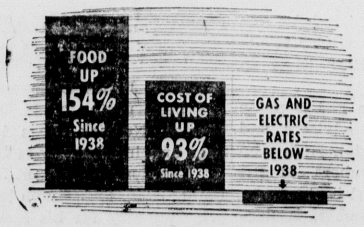
Even with the higher rates P. G. and E. has had to ask for . . . typical household

Gas and electric bills will still be smaller than in 1938!

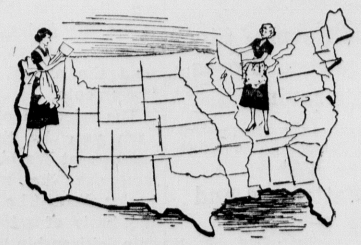
BILL
for 100 kilowatt-hours of electricity and 100 therms of gas for a home in a typical California city:
In February 1938 . . . . . $9.34
At proposed rates $8.90
Today: $8.25

Since early 1938, P. G. and E. home rates have been cut sharply in five separate years . . . in April 1938, in 1939, 1940, 1943 and 1946! That brought rates way down. They were raised only moderately during the last three years. Now, with continued pressure of rising taxes, wages and equipment costs, we've had to apply to the California Public Utilities Commission for new electric rates—increased rates to provide sufficient earnings to continue to attract the new capital required to meet the service demands of our customers. But even the increase we're asking won't bring your typical gas and electric bill up to what it was for the same use in 1938!

P. G. and E. wage rates are up 114% for weekly and daily employees. In 1938 our taxes were $17 million—last year they were $66 million. Yet our present domestic rates are far below the 1938 level. While rates must be raised, the P. G. and E. bill for a typical home will still be less than in 1938.



Everything else you buy costs more than in 1938. And P. G. and E. pays more for the things it buys, too. A power pole that cost $10 in 1938 now costs $25. A line truck has gone up from $2,124 to $4,834. We can't go on giving good service unless we can adjust our rates to help meet higher costs.



Gas and Electricity will still be cheap in California under the higher rates we've asked for. As a matter of fact, the typical P. G. and E. residential bill for gas and electricity in a California city will still be about ⅓ less than the average of the bills in cities of similar size outside California.

Can you think of anything else you buy that costs less than in 1938? . . . gas and electricity are big bargains!

IN AN INCUBATOR

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard King became parents of a daughter on February 20 at 5:45 p.m. They have two sons and live at 1221 Utica Street in Hillview. Born at the Decoto Medical building, Jeanie tipped the scales at three pounds and five ounces. Upon the request of her parents she was transferred to the Children's Hospital. She was placed in an incubator immediately after birth at Dr. Lee's office.

RECUPERATING

Frances Garcia of Tenth Street is now at home recovering from a recent operation which was performed at the Levine Hospital several weeks ago.

HOUSE GUEST

Johnnie Ignowski, a buddy of Harvey Hernandez during World War II, has been the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hernandez and daughter, Myrtle, of Stevens Street, Centerville. Johnnie, who has been discharged after serving 19 months in the Army Air Force Reserves, spent much of his time in Korea.

He has been shown a good time by the attractive Myrtle and her parents while he has been here. On Friday Myrtle, Johnnie and Alvin Silva of Decoto spent a lovely time at the roller skating rink. On Saturday evening they were at Swiss Park where the couples enjoyed a few hours of dancing.

ENJOYS VISIT

Minnie Garcia is recovering nicely from her recent operation. She has been home for over a week and has enjoyed her visits from all the nice folks who have been visiting her.

PLEASANT SMILE

Seen behind the counters of the Decoto Variety Store is that girl with a pleasant smile, Josie George. Josie, who has been recently added to the employees of the store, enjoys serving all you nice people.

DISCHARGED

Recently discharged from the Marines is Adolfo Sisneroz. He and his wife are at present residing with his parents on G and Sixth Street.

POT-LUCK SURPRISE

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Martin of 305 Fourth Street held a pot-luck dinner and a surprise birthday party at their home on Saturday, February 16. The honorees were Gilbert Wilson and Alice Rauch. Their birthday cake was baked by Mrs. Leach. Present were Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Leach, Ruth Andrus, John F. Koon, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Wilson and Miss Laverne Hearshaman, all of Hayward; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rauch Sr. and children, Floyd Jr., Leo, Roger and Judy, all of Centerville; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Finley and daughter Carol, Frank Doan, the host and hostess and Meredith, Sara and Paulie. The table was attractively set with a lovely bouquet of daffodils and calla lilies for a centerpiece.

SYMPATHY

Deepest sympathy is expressed to Bernie Joseph on the loss of his uncle, Joseph V. Quadros, who died of injuries from an accident on the San Francisco bay bridge.

SEWING CIRCLE MEETS

Twelve girls enjoyed cake and coffee with their chit-chat and handiwork when the Sewing Circle met last Wednesday, Feb. 20. This was double the number of girls that met at last month's meeting, but still more are urged to attend. Present at this meeting were Zelma Oliver, chairman, Lillian Janeiro, Mary Cordoza, Florence Wallace, Marie Terra, Mary Re, Stella Caldeira, Katie Luna, Margaret Williams, Josephine Barnard, Grace Caminada and Rose Silva.

CHRISTENING

Mr. and Mrs. Art Nunes of the Alvarado-Niles Road were the sponsors at the christening of Jeanie Ann Caldeira, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Caldeira of 2529 Buena Vista Avenue, Alameda. The ceremony was held at the St. Joseph' Church in Alameda. A dinner for the immediate family followed at the Caldeira home. Attending from Decoto were the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Bettencourt of Railroad Avenue.

FIFTH CHILD

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Cardoza announce the arrival of their fifth child, a daughter, Bernadette, born at the Hayward Hospital on Feb. 23. The Cardozas live at 227 Third Street. They have three boys and one other girl. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Ferreira of Newark. Mrs. Mary Cardoza of Santa Clara is the other grandparents.

TO NEVADA

Despite his age of 72 years and his wife's anxiety, Jack Faletti motored to Mendin, Nevada, alone for a visit with relatives. Although Jack has taken many trips before, concern was about the bad weather in that part of the country this time of year. But in spite of the family's concern, we're sure Jack will have a pleasant and safe trip.

TWINS HAVE BIRTHDAY

Anthony and Gerald Escalona celebrated their fifth birthdays at the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sid Martinez in Livermore, and with many more relatives last Sunday. On Monday, the twins' birthday, many of their friends came in to wish them a happy birthday and bring them remembrances for the occasion.

A GOOD TRIP

Johnny Garcia recently returned from a vacation trip to Santa Barbara and several days in the snow. Haven't talked to him about his trip, but knowing Johnny, we all know he had a good trip.

BABY SHOWER

The home of Mrs. Fred Costa was attractively set for the baby shower last Friday for her sister-in-law, Mrs. Roselyn Delgado. A large baby-shaped shoe was trimmed in blue crepe paper with pink bow and was the container for the presents brought by the guests. A stork hovered over the cake which read "Welcome Little Stranger." Delicious refreshments were enjoyed by all.

Attending were Anna White, Virginia Nicholas, Louise Sorensen, Leontine Costa, Julia Delgado, Vivian Paniagua, Frances Martin, all of Decoto; Orlene Romero of San Lorenzo, Lucy Martin, Delinda Duarte, May King and Bell Silva, all of Niles; Mary Moura and Mrs. Emily Rose of Centerville; Peggy Rose, Shirley Silva, Bea Costa, Polly Pine, Margie Pine, Lillian Costa and Mary Soito, all of Newark; Mrs. Dorothy Carrie and Marlene Carrie of Santa Clara; Mrs. Mary King and the hostess, Vivian Costa of Centerville. Sending gifts but unable to attend were Antoinette Sloan, Pat Paniagua, Mildred Mederos, Florence Mederos, Ruby Silva and Evelyn Joseph, all of Decoto; Ida Green and Mrs. Carrie Martin of Niles, and Adelaide Rousso and Pat Lewis of Santa Clara.

WHAT—NO COOKIES?

Mrs. Betty Margarido, Girl Scout leader of Troop No. 3 in Decoto, announces that there will be no cookies sale this year unless a mother of one of the Scouts volunteers to help the girls in the sale. Mrs. Margarido, because of her health, regrets this sale won't be held since it was a huge success last year. If anyone wishes to help please contact Betty. It was also announced that next Monday the Girl Scouts, Mrs. Margarido and Mrs. A. L. Costa, assistant leader, will again hold their weekly meeting at the Barnard School at 3:30 p.m.

BUSY STORK

The stork was kept busy at the Decoto Medical Building making many deliveries. Among them were:

Margo Lee Rodriguez, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tony S. Rodriguez of Hayward. She was delivered on February 26. Her weight was six pounds and 15 ounces. This is the Rodriguez's sixth child.

Gary Silva, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Anthony Silva of 602 H Street, was born on Feb. 25. He is the third child for the Silvas. He weighed in at eight pounds and 12 ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Paul De Trant became the parents of a daughter, Deborah Jane, born on February 24. She tipped the scales at six pounds and six ounces. They live at 2384 Thornton Avenue, Newark.

Twenty-two parents with quite a number of boys attended the first Cub Scout meeting at the Decoto Elementary School Tuesday evening. Manuel Hidalgo, president of the Chamber of Commerce, introduced Andy Anderson, district executive for the Twin Valley District. He showed two very interesting films, "Cub in the Home" and "Cub in the Den."

Mrs. King was named as leader for the pack. All parents interested are invited to attend the next meeting on March 5 at the King home, 1473 Geneva Street, Hillview. Boys from 8 to 11 years old may join.

TEACHERS TO FORM TOWNSHIP CTA UNIT

A meeting to organize a Washington Township unit of the California Teachers' Association will be held next Thursday, March 6, at 3:30 p.m., in the Washington Union High School.

The meeting will be the second to be held in organizing the group and it is expected that formal organization will take place at the coming meeting. The first session was held early in February at which there were no representatives from Alviso, Decoto and Irvington.

Judson Taylor, acting as temporary secretary of the group, has stated that one purpose of the Washington Unit would be to assist in maintaining cooperation between the teachers and the community. Other purposes would include the promotion of professional attitude among the members, to advance the general welfare of the schools and to form a representative body to speak for the local teaching group.

Invitations to attend have been sent to all Washington Township teachers. Plans to have a guest speaker from the California Teachers' Association in San Francisco are being made.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank all of our friends and relatives for their wonderful spiritual bouquets and floral offerings and words of sympathy at the time of our bereavement.

TV NEWS

By LEO BOHANNON

The crystal ball gazers have been predicting for a long time that the big new television giant would gobble up most every other kind of entertainment . . . as well as the leading stars. And now it looks as though the time has come . . . and that the days of the stars on radio are numbered. The next season is going to see all the big comics like Skelton, Benny, Crosby, Hope, Bergen and others out of radio and exclusively working in television.

Jack Benny will undoubtedly call it quits in radio (in spite of his top-notch rating) at the end of his present contract. And RED SKELTON will leave the airwaves in pursuit of an exclusive television contract as soon as possible. Hope and Crosby are both looking for regular television shows . . . with their big-budgeted radio shows washed out for next year. Edgar Bergen also quits Coco Cola this year for a TV show.

So . . . if you want to see STARS, it looks as though you'll have to have a television set from now on. The latest, greatest and best entertainment and show folk are going to be giving their all to TV. And you can count on that.

And you can count on us for the finest television reception. We'll furnish a fine set by RCA Victor, Admiral or Hoffman. And we'll guarantee installation and service by trained technicians. Your TV satisfaction is a must . . . it's guaranteed at

Centerville College Student is Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Wetzel of Santa Ana have announced the engagement of their daughter, Joan, to John D. Lewis Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lewis of Centerville.

The official announcement was made on February 14. On the following day her roommate, Eileen Hainley, at the Mount St. Mary's College in Los Angeles, honored her with an engagement party, which carried out the Valentine motif. The centerpiece on the table was comprised of a large model of a hand covered with a red glove and holding a nosegay. On the fourth finger was the engagement ring. As each guest entered she was handed a nosegay tied with ribbon from which dangled a card, "Joan and John." A large red heart-shaped cake also added to the decor.

Joan is a sophomore in college, and met her fiance shortly after he first went south to enter Loyola University. He, too, is a sophomore.

The young Loyola student recently returned to college after spending his mid-term vacation with his parents in Centerville. He is a graduate of Bellarmine Prep.

Irvington Pair Re-Exchange Vows

The former Billie Leal and William L. Morris, both of Irvington, re-exchanged wedding vows last Sunday at an 8 o'clock nuptial mass at St. Joseph's Church in Mission San Jose. The couple had first exchanged vows at a ceremony performed in Reno on December 16.

The bride is the daughter of J. F. Leal of Irvington, and is a graduate of Washington High.

The bridegroom, a veteran of World War II, is employed at the Rheem Manufacturing Company in Newark.

Irvington Man's Fiancee Sets Wedding Date

May 31 is the weddng date set by Miss Merle Hundley and William White, son of the William M. Whites of Irvington. Miss Hundley is at present school nurse at Franklin School in San Jose and was educated in Whittier and at the University of California. She has chosen the Methodist Church in San Jose as the scene of her wedding, which will be an all-white one.

William, or Bill as he is known to his friends, has resided on Mission Road with his parents since moving to Irvington two years ago. Before that the White family lived in Hollister where Bill attended school. He, too, attended the university, and he too, is now employed in San Jose.

Bill is the grandson of the late Mrs. M. Neilson, and is related to several local families.

Active Rotarian

Joe Mattos, who has been in Niles only six or seven times since he left here in 1907, was here again this week. It was rather a sad excursion, however, as he came to attend the funeral of his uncle, Anthony Vargas.

Mr. Mattos is now living in Truckee. He is a very active Rotarian in that town, having been its first president, when the Truckee Rotarians founded their club in 1939.

Party Honors Her Eightieth Birthday

Mrs. Mary Moura of Parrish Avenue, Centerville, was the guest of honor at a dinner and party held for her on February 16, the occasion marking the celebration of her 80th birthday.

Members of the immediate family who were present were Mrs. Mary King of Irvington, Mr. and Mrs. Antone L. Silva of Centerville, Mr. William Silva of Centerville, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin King and Donald and Carol of Niles, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Costa and Patty Ann of Irvington.

Invited but unable to attend were Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Pashote, daughter and son-in-law, and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Pashote, grandson and wife, all of Newark.

Four generations were present, Mrs. Moura, Mrs. Mary King, Mrs. Vivian Costa, and little Patty Ann Costa, great-granddaughter.

The guest of honor received a host of beautiful gifts.

Hirschs Entertain In New Home

A Sunday afternoon cocktail party was the manner in which Mr. and Mrs. Allan Hirsch opened their new home off Mission Road to a host of their friends. Over a hundred of their friends, both from the Township and from out of town motored atop the hill on which the ultra-modern home is situated. The guests arrived between the hours of 2 till 5 to be entertained in the rumpus room of the beautifully appointed new home.

In the Hospital

Mr. George Barker, 86, often called "Niles grand old man," is in Highland Hospital, having been stricken with bronchial pneumonia and taken to Highland by an ambulance.

He will be glad to read in The Register—which will be sent to the hospital—that his many friends here are hoping for a quick recovery for him.

It will be of interest locally that Miss Lorrie Luchetti, a Niles girl who is taking nurses training at Highland, sees Mr. Barker three or four times daily, and she told friends in Niles that he is getting along as well as could be expected.

JACK TURNER AND BRIDE ON HONEYMOON FOLLOWING CEREMONY LAST SATURDAY

The Holy Ghost Church in Centerville was the scene last Saturday of the wedding of John (Jack) Turner, son of John W. Turner of Niles, and Ann Marie Binter, daughter of Mrs. Anna Binter of Centerville. The double-ring ceremony was performed at three o'clock by the Rev. Father Curran.

Given in marriage by her brother, Joe Binter of San Diego, the bride walked down the aisle in an informal ballerina-length gown of rose-point lace and nylon net. The strapless bodice was covered with a fitted jacket of lace, styled with peter-pan collar and pointed sleeves. The skirt was fashioned with two-tier nylon net, over heavy slipper satin. It was accented with an over-peplum of rosepoint lace, edged in pleated net. The bride carried a prayer book, with a marker of orchids and bouvardia.

The maid of honor, Erna Rothlin of Patterson, was dressed in an ice-blue gown, and carried a colonial bouquet of white camellias.

David Turner performed bestman duties for his brother.

The bride's mother chose a navy blue dress with navy and white accessories for her daughter's wedding.

Traditional wedding music was played by Inez Silva.

After the ceremony, a buffet luncheon was served with cake and champagne punch at the International Kitchen, where a hundred guests assembled to felicitate the happy pair.

The new Mrs. Turner selected an aqua knit suit for her going away costume, and with it she wore black accessories.

After a week's honeymoon, the newlyweds will return to make their home in an apartment on Willow Road in Menlo Park. The groom is employed at United Airlines near Burlingame.

ORCHESTRA LEADER CLAIMS BRIDE AT CEREMONY PERFORMED IN SANTA CRUZ

Two major events in the life of Albert Silva, popular orchestra leader in the township, took place this week. On Sunday he was married. Three days later, Wednesday, he went into the Navy.

He and the former Mary Mello of Santa Cruz became man and wife at a ceremony performed at the Holy Family Church in Santa Cruz. Best man for his brother was Edward Silva.

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. Flora Silva of Niles, is a graduate of Washington High, and has made music his career since that time.

For her wedding the bride chose the traditional white, a ballerina-length gown fashioned with strapless bodice, covered with a cape of nylon net. A short veil and lace mits completed her costume. She carried a bouquet of red and white roses. Her maid of honor, a close friend, wore a lace frock and carried a bouquet of roses.

After the ceremony, which was attended only by members of the two families, a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Moise of Santa Cruz.

The young couple then spent their short honeymoon in the bay area, and the bride has since returned to Santa Cruz to live with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Mello. She is employed in that city.

Luncheon Honors Canyon Heights Woman

A pot-luck luncheon held at the home of Mrs. E. A. Miller of Canyon Heights served as the mode of entertainment to honor Mrs. Bernice White, also of Canyon Heights, at a stork shower last Wednesday. Mrs. White exclaimed, when she saw all the festivities and gifts, "I feel like the 'Queen for a Day'!"

Co-hostesses with Mrs. Miller were Mrs. Ed O'Mara of Newark and Mrs. John Mara of San Jose.

Guests included Mmes. Maxine Marshall, Verba Westray, Doris Souza, Rena Harrelson, Billie Nielsen, Florence Matthews, Cecelia Mattos, Lucille Lloyd, Thelma Burnett, Rosie Cartwright, Betty Nielsen, Esther Crosswhite, Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Hale.

Others were: Mmes Mary Haynes, Edna Costa, Dorothy Gronley, Mary Brown, Bernice Tate, Norma Hobbs, Anna Jean Howard, Gerry Morgan, Emma Ruth Miller and Tillie Dondero.

Unable to atend but sending gifts were: Violet Miller, Ola Marlen, Emma Ingland, Maude Musgrove, Virginia Musgrove, Mollie Schaaf, Dorothy McKiernan, Mary Maddox, Eva Gregory, Mrs. Boyd Morningstar, Mrs. George Burr and Mrs. Beckaway.

Son of Niles Man To Be Married Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. "Pat" Patchett will take time off next Sunday from their duties at the Peerless Bus Depot in Niles to attend the wedding of Mr. Patchett's son, Mr. Gilbert G. Patchett, to Lena Ruth Hubbard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Hubbard of Berkeley.

The wedding, to be held at the Chapel of the Flowers in Berkeley, will be followed by a reception at the Lido Deck at the Claremont Hotel.

The bridegroom-to-be is a graduate of the University of California and is now employed as a chemical engineer. His fiancee is still going to Cal.

Family Dinner Party

A family dinner party on Washington's Birthday was held at the L. H. Adams home in Irvington. Present were the Richard C. Adams and three children, including their newest baby, Wesley John, born on February 3; and also Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Davis of San Leandro and two children.

Mr. and Mrs. Adams, senior, were very happy to have their five grandchildren with them.

Fun in the Snow

The Hal Korells of Niles accompanied the Audy Henry family of Castro Valley to Challenge (up past Marysville) last week-end to be house guests of the W. W. Carters. The three families had a lot of fun in the snow.

Say you saw it In The Register.

Returns to Township

Mrs. Fleecie Gomes, who has been living with her son and family in San Jose, has returned to the township and is presently living with her daughter, Mrs. Ed Vieira and family in Centerville. Mrs. Gomes has rented one of the Alameda apartments and expects to be moved into it in two or three weeks.

There's nothing just as good that's Cheaper!

It's a fact! Your travel dollar buys more comfort, more convenience, more luxury and more miles on modern streamliners than on any other form of transportation. Roundtrips in chair cars on any of the Southern Pacific "name" trains listed below cost only about 2¢ a mile or less.

Chair cars on Southern Pacific's modern streamliners have been built with your comfort the first consideration. Dust-free, draft-free air-conditioning. No-glare fluorescent lighting. Soft-as-a-cloud foam-rubber seats. Lots of leg room and move-around room. Extra large windows. Feather-touch doors. Spacious washrooms. That's why Chair Cars on S. P. streamliners are the most luxurious form of all low-cost transportation.

There's nothing as good as S.P. for freight shipments, too. We have more miles of line serving more Western cities and towns than any other railroad. For fast, efficient, dependable freight service —whether carload or l.c.l.—call our nearest agent.

LEAP YEAR

On leap years when a girl proposes
She gets a husband if he says "yes."
According to the old time custom
If he says "no," she gets a new dress!

LEAP YEAR DANCE

The Odd Fellows and Rebekahs are having a dance tonight at the Odd Fellows Hall in Irvington. The public is invited to attend. Be careful all you bachelors.

BRIDGE GROUP

Mrs. James Lawson of James Avenue entertained a group of deputy sheriff's wives at bridge last Wednesday evening. This group originally formed when the members all lived on the "post" at Santa Rita. However, now living here in Irvington, besides Mrs. Lawson, is Mrs. Dean Davenport. A new resident of Centerville is Mrs. Larry White, while the other guests, Mrs. Bob Wilson, Mrs. Don Searcy, Mrs. James Maupin, Mrs. Bob Hamilton and Mrs. Gordon Nelson, are all of Pleasanton.

SON VISITS

Mrs. J. M. Brewer of San Jose Avenue was a lucky mother last Sunday when her son, Lester L. Brewer and his family, drove down from San Francisco to spend the day. Mr. Brewer also has a sister in Irvington, Miss Myla Brewer.

STORK NEWS

The Hetrick family of Irvington welcomed a new little son at the San Jose Hospital last Thursday, February 21. Mother and son are doing fine. Congratulations, Papa Hetrick.

GRANDDAUGHTER INJURED

Mrs. Kate Brewer is in San Francisco at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Carl McGovern, caring for her granddaughter, Jean Nelson. Jean was thrown through the windshield when the car in which she was riding had an accident. Miss Nelson was returning from a visit to Los Angeles where she had visited with her aunt, Mrs. Leo Fields. Her companions were injured too. Too bad the trip ended that way.

IT'S A GIRL

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Bradley proudly announce the birth of their third child, a little girl, on Monday, February 25. The new Miss Bradley has two big brothers, Nicholas and Robert.

MOTHERS' NIGHT

Members of the P.T.A. at Irvington Elementary School are practicing for the forthcoming Mothers' Night to be held next Thursday at 8 p.m. at the school. The skit put on last year was a riot, and the mothers will be hard pressed to surpass it this year. But they probably will.

The executive board meeting was held last Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. X. Stone, president.

DINNER A SUCCESS

Members of the Ad-A-Mites had a wonderful response to their recent spaghetti dinner, and they wish to thank the entire Township whose cooperation made this possible. Now remember that this is the group's first public dinner and they are open to criticism.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Cecil Rhoades, student pastor, announces that Sunday worship service is at 11:15 a.m. while the Sunday School convenes at 10 a.m. Each Sunday evening at 7 o'clock there is a prayer service around the fireplace. Last Sunday's informal service drew a group of 21 people.

BABY NEWS

The Robert Brown family of Roberts Avenue are the parents of a new little daughter, Barbara Louise, born Friday at O'Conner's Hospital in San Jose. Janice, the only other girl in the family of six, is particularly glad to welcome her new sister.

Last Friday, February 22, was Barbara's birthday. She is in company at that.

The principal chemical constituents of coffee are caffine and caffeol.

SPORTSMEN HAVE DINNER-DANCE

Wives and guests of the Niles Sportsmen's Club gathered for an indoor event last Saturday when the annual installation dinner for the new officers was held at the Veterans Memorial Building in Niles. One hundred and twenty-two people attended the installation dinner and dance.

Clarence Wilson, president of the Hayward Associated Sportsmen's Council No. 3, was master of ceremonies and was assisted in the installation of the new officers by William Case, secretary of the same organization. Fred Rogers, Alameda County game warden, was guest speaker. His topic dealt with wild life conservation.

The new president of the local organization is Al Gamba. Other officers are: Joe Perry, vice-president; Joe Pine, secretary. and Joe Dooley, treasurer. Henry Gomez is sergeant-at-arms and the directors are Clarence Musgrove, former president, William Pine Jr., Anthony Field and Reginald Calhoun.

The dinner was prepared by the organization's ladies auxiliary. Alvie Silva and his orchestra furnished the dance music.

Among the activities currently being planned by the club is a shoot scheduled for April 6 and a barbecue in June. Definite plans for these activities will be announced soon.

URGE BABY SITTERS HAVE CHEST X-RAYS

Yearly chest x-rays for baby sitters have been recommended by Dr. James C. Malcolm, Alameda County health officer.

This practice is suggested to families with young children because of the close personal contact of the baby sitter and children in the family. This is the type of association that makes the spread of tuberculosis possible if a person has the disease and does not know it.

During the school day children have an added protection against tuberculosis through the policy of yearly teacher x-rays adopted by most school boards. Baby-sitter x-rays combined, of course, with yearly parent x-rays, would give protection during the home hours.

Free chest x-rays are available at the Walpert Memorial X-ray Center, located at Fairmont Hospital. Anyone who has an x-ray will receive a card which can be shown by a baby-sitter to the employer as evidence that an x-ray has been taken.

For information on hours at the x-ray center, families are invited to telephone the Alameda County Health Department.

LOCAL 4-H CLUB LEADERS AT MEET

Localites who attended the County Council of Community Leaders, meeting at Amador high school in Pleasanton Tuesday night, included Bill Tyson, local 4-H Club leader, and four project leaders: Ted Logan, Doyce Woods, Mrs. Evelyn Lawrey and Mrs. Betty Scott.

The leaders discussed various 4-H Club projects and planned events for the ensuing year, including Alameda County camp date at Sonoma, set for July 30. Also coming up for discussion were entries for the junior livestock show at the Cow Palace.

NEW CLASS IN CERAMICS STARTS IN IRVINGTON

A class in ceramics, open to adults of Washington Township, is slated to commence next Thursday night, March 6, in the cafeteria of the Irvington school. Mrs. Carmelita Berge Freitas will be the instructor.

There will be no entrance fee to join the class. The only charge will be that made for materials, which can be purchased at the school.

The new class is under the adult education program of Washington Union High School.

THANK YOU

The Editor, Sir:

On behalf of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Joseph and Stanley Bernardo Post 7445, Veterans of Foreign Wars, I wish to thank the Township Register for the publicity that it has given to our Auxiliary since its formation a few months ago.

Especially appreciated is the space which the Township Register devoted to our Installation and Institution Ceremonies.

Yours very sincerely,
JANICE ROETHLIN,
President.

THE TOWNSEND PLAN

The Editor, Sir:

"God works in mysterious ways His wonders to perform."

Why does the Townsend Plan, known perhaps better here in California than elsewhere, persist through the years, and will not down!

How about all of us giving earnest and prayerful thought to the subject?

Is it not a lend-lease plan; and should we not be as willing to give lend-lease aid to the people of our own country as to those of other countries? Should we not love our own as well as others?

Perhaps this has something to do with our seeming loss of prestige in the eyes of other nations.

I believe it can be proven to be a truly self-sustaining plan in all ways.

For my part, I want it to unfold more fully in my thought, if right.

Perhaps the reason for many of the evils of recent times stems from the fact that there has been little progress made along this line.

It seems to me that the young as well as the elder citizens would be blessed by it.

BERTHA R. FIELDS.

TWO INITIATED INTO KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

Jesse Simms and Ralph Runolfson of Newark, Esquires of the Knights of Phythias Lodge No. 170, became full fledged members of the order at ceremonies conducted by Lodge No. 103 in Oakland last Wednesday night.

Page Rank rituals for four new candidates of the local lodge will be held in about two weeks.

GARDEN CLUB TO MEET IN HAYWARD MARCH 6

Frank Horton will talk on fuchsia pruning and Irwin Speed will display specimen philodendron plants and discuss their culture at the March 6 meeting of the Hayward Garden Club.

William T. Rober will preside at the 8 p.m. meeting in the Hayward high school cafeteria. There will be a plant table on display and refreshments will be served. Visitors may attend the garden meetings.

TALK SLATED FOR COUNTRY CLUB

"Pardon Me, Ladies, But Your Behavior is Showing" is the subject of a talk to be given before members of the Country Club at the regular meeting next Tuesday by Mrs. Matthew D. O'Brien. Mrs. O'Brien is state chairman of ethics for women's clubs.

Mrs. O'Brien is usually accompanied on her visits to different clubs by the following: Tessie Tattle, Em Barrassing, Clarabelle Smugg and Agatha Trifling.

With this interesting quintet of visitors, the club members are assured of a most entertaining, as well as profitable, afternoon.

The musical part of the program will be supplied by the Sophomore-Junior-Senior sextette of the Washington High School, directed by Mrs. Harriet Thornburg. Mrs. Karl Nordvik is music program chairman.

Hostesses for the afternoon will be Mmes. Dora Anderson, E. H. Hirsch, L. S. Williams, Harvey Braun and Thomas Power.

REBEKAH NEWS

Anna Bradford, district deputy president of District No. 53, I.O O.F., paid an official visit to Livermore Rebekah Lodge last Wednesday evening. She was accompanied by Anna Van Buskirk, deputy marshal, and an escort staff. A group of members from Silver Star Rebekah Lodge also attended. Mrs. Bradford will pay an official visit to Silver Star on March 21, and to Pleasanton Lodge on March 24.

The Friendly Sewing Circle will hold an afternoon card party at Odd Fellows Hall, Irvington, on March 6 at 1 p.m. There will be dessert, and table prizes. Everybody is welcome. Gladys Hindmarsh, Centerville, is chairman of the affair. She can be reached by telephone.

The next regular meeting of Necona Theta Rho Girls' Club will be held Monday evening, March 3, at Odd Fellows Hall, Irvington, according to Barbara Talley, president. Election of delegates to the Theta Rho Assembly to be held in Santa Barbara in April will be held.

The Leap Year Dance is scheduled for tonight (Friday) at Maple Hall in Irvington. Dancing starts at 9 p.m. The dance is sponsored by the Mission Peak Lodge, I.O. O.F., and Silver Star Lodge.

PUBLIC INVITED TO MEETING ON NARCOTICS

The special meeting on narcotics, to which everyone has been invited by the Newark P.T.A., will be held Tuesday evening, March 4, at 8 o'clock, in the kindergarten room of the Newark school.

Sergeant Keith Brown of the juvenile division of the Oakland police department, and Sergeant Bill Hildebrand of the sheriff's substation in Centerville will be guest speakers.

KINDERGARTNERS AT PARTY

February 22 was the date of Cheryl Ornellas' fifth birthday, which she celebrated with a group of her kindergarten friends. Playing games and enjoying refreshments at Cheryl's house were: Shelby Rice, Pam and Sharon Texera, Marilyn Maciel, Jeannie Costa, Jean Parrot and Cheryl Martin.

A BABY GIRL

Mr. and Mrs. Peter DeTrant are receiving congratulations on the birth of their daughter, Debra Jane. The new little girl was born last Sunday and tipped the scales at a bit over seven pounds.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

Miss Betty Jean Silva was the guest of honor at a dinner last Sunday at the Villa de la Paix. The occasion was her seventeenth birthday. Composing the dinner party were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Silva, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Silva, Miss Vondell Mings and Melvin Ordonez.

BROWNIES WANT ASSISTANCE

Brownie Troop No. 76 is endeavoring to collect "Gold Medal" silverware coupons. Although the girls are saving the coupons in their own homes, they could certainly use any which local housewives might have. Upon receiving the required amount of coupons they will turn them in for the silverware premium. This silverware set will be used by their troop in their cooking activities. Anyone wishing to help the girls out may send their coupons to Mrs. Leo Bohannon, Route 1, Box 79-A, Newark.

STANLEY PARTY

Mrs. L. E. Lewallen was hostess at a Stanley Party on Thursday evening of last week. Many friends were present to watch demonstrations by Miss Earlie May Sloan.

CELEBRATE IN LIVERMORE

Mrs. Frank Gygax celebrated her birthday on February 24 at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Tremblay, in Livermore. She and her family enjoyed a dinner prepared by her mother.

CARD PARTY SUNDAY

The men's organization of St. Edward's Church is sponsoring a whist party this Sunday. The party will be held at the Newark Pavillion and will begin at 2 p.m. Proceeds from this event will go towards the church building fund. Although the attendance at last year's card party was large, it is expected to surpass that this year.

OF VITAL IMPORTANCE

The March 4 meeting of the Newark P.T.A. will discuss a problem which has fallen upon the teenagers of many communities and ruined their lives. It will be on one of the most destructive menaces of society, "Narcotics." Sergeant Keith Brown, who is with the Juvenile Division of the Oakland police department, will be one of the main speakers. Sergeant William Hildebrand of the Alameda Substation in Centerville will also speak on the subject with the local problems as his main topic. This meeting is open to anyone in the township who may be interested.

SURPRISE PARTY

Miss Rosemary Gunn, whose birthday was last Tuesday, was completely overwhelmed Saturday night when a group of her friends rang the doorbell to wish her a "happy birthday." A party, planned by her mother, was in order for the evening. Both Rosemary and her guests enjoyed a wonderful evening. Those present were: Nonie Beck, Sharlet Seward, Jo Anne Elias, Beverly Lopez, Jo Ann Lewis, Emily Jane Scott, Carolyn Nobles, Mrs. S. Scott and Mrs. Gunn.

WEDDING IN RENO

Married Sunday in Reno were Miss Lenore Potts of Newark and Glen McDaniels from Oakland. Miss Potts is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Potts.

COOKIE SALE

The Intermediate Girl Scouts of Troop 53 will hold a cookie sale tomorrow in front of the grocery stores here in Newark. This sale is to raise funds to enable the girls to attend established Scout Camp this summer in Medoncino County. It is one of their largest money raising projects of the year and the support of the Saturday shoppers would be gratifying to many of them who, if their sale is not a success, may not be able to attend the camp.

NEW SUPERVISOR

Mrs. Ray Auchard will take over the position held by Miss Mae Rose as cafeteria supervisor at the Newark Elementary School.

WEEK-END IN THE SNOW

The Boy Scouts of Troop 1 will be spending this week-end at Twain Harte in the heart of the Sierras. They will leave Saturday and return Sunday evening. This trip has long been awaited by the boys. To make their camping a little easier and warmer, Mr. Earl Wilburn has given them the use of his cabin. Accompanying the troop will be Mr. Ed Maughn, scoutmaster, and Mr. Corchero.

ATTEND INSTALLATION

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Phippen attended the installation of officers of the D.O.K.K. in Oakland last Saturday. Mr. Phippen, along with Mr. Lenard Whitbeck, were installed. The same evening they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Kenny Williams of Oakland at the Pioneer Village. Here they had dinner in honor of Mrs. Phippen, who was celebrating her birthday.

LOCAL F.F.A. WINS SECTIONAL CONTEST

The Washington Township Future Farmers of America's team again won the sectional parliamentary procedures contest held this week at Hayward High School. They will travel to King City on March 22 to compete in the regional finals.

Ernest Kinzli of Warm Springs acted as presiding chairman for the team. Vice-chairman was Larry Lamoreux of Niles, and Kiyoshi Katsumoto of Decoto acted as secretary, LeRoy Brown of Newark as reporter and Frank Galvin of Warm Springs as treasurer.

Each of the four teams were allowed ten minutes to display their knowledge in conducting a meeting under Robert's Rules of Order. The other teams participating were from Half Moon Bay, Pleasanton and Hayward.

The Sequoia-Kings Canyon National Park is located in Tulare County.

SUNDAY SCHOOL HOURS CHANGED

The beginners' department, nursery and kindergarten age, of the Sunday School of the Niles Congregational Church will change its hour of meeting to 11 a.m. beginning Sunday, March 3. The other departments will continue to meet at the regular hour of 9:45 a.m. A sound film on Protestant work in Mexico will be shown at the 9:45 hour, according to the Rev. Paul Focht, pastor.

Mr. Focht announced his lenten series of Sunday morning sermons at the 11 o'clock worship service, using "Christianity and Your Life" as the general theme. The first in this series for next Sunday is entitled, "An Unshakable Faith."

FFA MEMBERS TO SHOW LIVESTOCK

Three young ranchers of Washington Township will have entries in the 1952 Grand National Junior Livestock Exposition to be held April 5 to 10 in the San Francisco Cow Palace. The three are all members of the Future Farmers of America.

Jim Coelho of Warm Springs will exhibit his Hereford steer and Leonard Pedro and Jim Murphy, both of Niles, will show cross bred lambs. Murphy has five entries listed.

Between now and the time the three young farmers travel to San Francisco for the five-day exposition, the nation's biggest livestock exposition for Future Farmers and 4-H Club members, they will be busy preparing their entries. They will compete with more than 1,000 others from California, Oregon and Nevada, showing over 3,000 head of beef and dairy cattle, hogs and lambs.

Albert L. Carter, agricultural instructor at Washington Union High School, will accompany the youths to the exposition.

POT LUCK DINNER HELD

The Irvington Civil Defense block wardens and leaders held a pot luck dinner at the grammar school building on Monday. Over 30 persons attended the dinner and meeting. The group was told of the new civil defense program and was shown a Navy film on the Marines in Korea.

BAKE SALE IN NILES TOMORROW MORNING

The ladies of the township, especially Niles, will be able to take advantage of a bake sale in Niles tomorrow (Saturday) morning.

From 9:30 to 12 noon, cakes, cookies, pies, rolls, and other baked foods, will be on sale in Frick's Hardware Store building.

Under the sponsorship of the Martha Sanford Circle of the Niles Congregational Church, Mrs. Henry Kohlenberg of Centerville and Mrs. W. G. Denton of Niles will be in charge of the benefit sale.

RITES HELD FOR ANTONE F. VARGAS

A solemn requiem high mass at Corpus Christi Church was said Monday for Antone F. Vargas, who died last week at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Anthony Lauriano of Santa Clara. Mr. Vargas had been a resident of the Niles area for over 50 years.

In addition to his daughter, Mr. Vargas is survived by his widow, Mrs. Amelia Vargas; a son, Manuel F. Vargas of Niles, and three grandchildren and one great-grandchild. He was a native of Fayal, the Azores.

Rosary was recited Sunday at Berge Mortuary Company, Niles, and interment in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, Hayward, followed the requiem high mass.

MASS SAID FOR MANUEL GASPER

Services were conducted this week for Manuel Gasper of Alvarado who died at his home there following a long illness. Mr. Gasper is survived by a sister, Mrs. Rose Perry of Alvarado, and two brothers, Frank Gasper of Alvarado and Joseph Gasper of Tacoma, Washington. Mr. Gasper, who had been a long time resident of Washington Township, was a native of the Azore Islands.

Requiem mass was said Monday at St. Anne's Church and was followed by interment in Holy Ghost Cemetery. A rosary was recited Sunday at the Chapel of the Palms Mortuary, Centerville.

NILES MAN HAS NOVEL PLANE TRIP

Hal Korell of Niles, senior air route traffic controller of the Oakland Control Center at Oakland Airport, departed from San Francisco last Tuesday on a United Airlines DC-6 for Chicago, and returned Thursday with an interesting account of his flight.

Unlike other passengers on the plane, Mr. Korell's trip was made both ways in the pilot's compartment, the purpose of the trip being to observe Air Traffic Control procedures from the pilot's viewpoint, and to discuss control procedures and practices with the pilot.

Upon arrival at Chicago the approach was made by radar, the pilot being "talked down" through the overcast skies to the airport by radar, with the controller on the ground.

Mr. Korell spent Wednesday in Chicago in the Chicago Control Tower, observing radar control, and in the Control Tower Center observing and co-ordinating control procedures with the Civil Aeronautics Administration personnel at that location.

The whole procedure was an innovation for the airlines, which are endeavoring to establish a better liaison system between the control centers and the crews of the big airliners.

NILES ELEMENTARY SCHOOL IN TOURNAMENT

Coach John Kane, Niles Elementary School basketball coach, announced this week that his varsity team has entered the Southern Aalameda County Invitational Basketball Tournament at Hayward High School, beginning this Thursday.

Niles varsity has just finished a fairly successful season, winning 6 while losing 4. The following are the results:

LEGION AUXILIARY FETES OFFICERS

Mrs. Stella Benbow, when paying her official visit to the American Legion Auxiliary, Washington Township Post, last Wednesday night, as the Tenth District president, was royally feted. The occasion marked a double celebration—her official visit, and also her birthday.

The members served refreshments, including a big birthday cake, to commemorate the occasion. The meeting also marked the first time the Auxiliary had met in the new ladies club room, just recently completed.

Invited to the "refreshment hour" were members of the Legion, who were meeting also on that night, and also the newly-organized Air Boy Scouts, their parents and their leaders.

Accompanying Mrs. Benbow on her visit to the Auxiliary were her officers, as follows: first vice-president, Anna McKee; junior past president, Beryl Wood; secretary, Ida Taylor; treasurer, LaVern Cheval; chaplain, Irene Sorensen; sergeant-at-arms, Elsie Mattos; marshall, Margaret Hanahan; historian, Edna Gray; distinguished guest chairman, Elsie Dunbar; finance and budget, Betty Pool; parliamentarian, Lillie Robinson.

N. OF W. ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

The Neighbors of Woodcraft No. 598 of Niles held its election of officers last Friday evening at the home of Clerk Carrie Martin.

The following were elected: Leontina Costa, past guardian neighbor; Lavinia Luedecke, guardian neighbor; Jean Carey, advisor; Adelaide Russo, banker; Zelma Shipman, magician; Mary Miller, attendant; Vivian Costa, captain of the guards; Nora A. Shipman, flag bearer; Sophea Lea Barker, inner sentinel; Helen Silveria, outer sentinel; Fred Costa, musician; Leontina Costa, correspondent; Tony Miller, Salvadore Russo and Eddy Martin, managers; Dr. Lyle Buehler and Dr. E. M. Grimmer Sr., physicians.

The next meeting will be held on March 28.

Installation of officers will be on April 25.

Thinking Things Over . . .

By VIVIAN BATMAN

TELL ME WHY

Who is this Johnny Ray who has the audacity to intrude upon practically all of my waking—and even sleeping — moments? His voice comes out over the air waves every night, bleating out in almost tragic tones such ditties as "Cry" and "Tell Me Why."

I wish someone would tell ME why. WHY do I have to listen to him! WHY doesn't he learn how to sing! WHY doesn't he get something the matter with his voice, I mean something ELSE the matter, so that he can't sing at all!

I suppose that as long as I have teen-agers around I will have to put up with his "Cry-ing."

SIXTY YEARS AGO!

In 1892 Roland Bendel of Niles took a boat-ride with his parents and other members of his family on a picturesque little lake in Germany.

A photographer took a picture of the happy family outing, and the picture was subsequently printed on post-cards, to be sold to tourists and sight-seers. It must be mentioned here that the women and girls in the group were wearing the then popular leg o' mutton sleeves, and other stylish apparel of 1892.

Just a couple of years ago, Mr. Bendel received a post-card from a friend who was traveling in Europe. It couln't be, but it was! The same post-card!—the Bendel family (Mr. Bendel was just a toddler at the time) boating on the lake! They are still selling those post-cards in that quaint little German town!

Do you suppose they've heard about automobiles?

A PROMOTION

Last week, in a story I wrote about his injury, I demoted Sergeant Leon Vieux in Korea, to a Corporal. The Tribune followed suit.

I feel very badly about this. Who do I think I am, anyhow—taking stripes away from our soldier boys?

I have speculated on various ways of re-instating myself with Sergeant Vieux. The only thing I can think of, is to write to his commanding officer and suggest that it would be nice if he made Leon a major or something. That ought to fix things up fine for our young Niles sergeant.

San Jose Teachers' College, California's first normal school, was established permanently at San Jose on March 11, 1870.

IN QUARTZ HILL IT'S ALMOND BLOSSOM TIME

By BOB WOOD, Editor
Antelope Valley Ledger-Gazette

Smog-bound citizens of Los Angeles frequently get away from it all on a weekend by pointing the family car northward and driving over the mountains into the wide-open and sunny spaces of Antelope Valley, an agricultural oasis on the edge of the great Mojave Desert. There they breathe deeply of the Valley's fresh, pure air and enjoy the beauty of its vast farmlands, desert, mystic Joshua trees, and the splendor of the Tehachapi and San Gabriel mountains.

Only 60 miles from the heart of Los Angeles, the Valley experiences its greatest traffic of Angelenos during the spring months when the wildflowers and fruit trees begin to bloom. Today the almond trees have unveiled the first 1952 models of almond blossoms. And this means that the time is near for an annual event which brings visitors to Antelope Valley by the thousands: the Almond Blossom Festival at Quartz Hill on Sunday, March 9.

THE USE OF IDEAS

By NICHOLS FIELD WILSON

"It is the use of ideas, and not just ideas, that is important. "So says J. Evan Armstrong and you may be certain he knows. Born in May, 1883, in Ekron, Meade County, Kentucky, Mr. Trmstrong early in life recognized the truth of this statement and for years has passed it along.

Founder and President of Armstrong College with success in his chosen profession Mr. Armstrong looks back on the days when he earned his own education — the hard way. He was reared on a farm with a 16-hour work day. He wanted to go to college which wasn't so simple as it is today. He entered college with a cash capital of ten dollars and worked his way through eight years of college life. He clothed himself, paid for room and board, tuition, car fare and all expenses by his own work.

He left the University of California faculty to establish Armstrong College in 1918. It is located on Kittredge Street at Harold Way in Berkeley, California. It is in this fine distinctive school, with spacious buildings, that for 33 years students have found a college home that arouses enthusiasm and encourages the faculty interested in providing opportunity for the development of ideas . . . and the use of ideas.

One particular achievement of Armstrong College has been in building a professional type of training with practical emphasis. It is the use aspects of knowledge that makes it possible for any kind of education to pay off. The entire program of this institution is planned around the practical concept of adding to the historical, philosophical, and classical aspects of subject matter and the training of young people to take their place in the world.

The college publishes a series of bulletins which give complete information with reference to the college, its organization, its courses, and the various vocational objectives for which it trains. To quote from one of these publications, the college is dedicated:

"To the inculcation of the highest ideals and standards in business . . .

"To the preparation of young men and women for a life of usefulness, whether spent in the home, in business or the professions . . .

"To the development of the finer qualities of manhood and womanhood through an appreciation of culture and of those institutions which have been the priceless heritage of past generations . . .

"To the awakening of ambition, the engendering of vision, and training for the individual leadership which comes with the fullest utilization of our God-given faculties—mental, physical, and moral."

Mr. Armstrong visioned a different kind of a college. One that would be of practical help to the youth of our land. He had the idea . . . more than that he made the idea work! The financing job accomplished in 1922 and 1933 won unstinted praise of big-time financiers. It had never been done before.

The beautiful, practical, modern plant was built in 1923 and occupied November 24th. Mr. Armstrong tells me, "When the building was just about completed, I stood upon the roof of the new plant and saw the Berkeley fire which swept over about forty blocks and threatened to be the end of the new construction. If the wind had not changed it would have been a different story."

This is meant to be a brief story of the business success of J. Evan Armstrong who, by his own efforts, has risen in this great American land of freedom to become a leader in his profession . . . president of a great college destined to provide many more leaders in business, and the professions through the practical use of ideas.

Starting with six students in June 1918, Armstrong College has grown to national importance with students from every section of the United States and many foreign countries.

A handsome man, in the prime of life, with adynamic and pleasing personality, J. Evan Armstrong radiates enthusiasm, inspires the best in youth, and by his own hard-won success stimulates mankind.

THE IDEA IS THE THING—IF YOU MAKE IT WORK.

NORTHERN DIGGINGS

This Is Number 2 in a Series of 3 Features on California's Fabulous Argonaut Country.

By EVALYN SLACK GIST

Jig-jogging along the 49er Highway from Placerville north to Downieville you'll take in the northern tip of the Mother Lode and the entire Northern Diggings of the Argonaut Country. Three jaunts will do it nicely, leaving U.S. 99 from Sacramento and from Marysville.

South of Placerville such camps as El Dorado, Plymouth, Drytown and Amador City as well as off the highway Michigan Bar and Fiddletown of Bret Harte fame, link Part II and Part I of this Pilgrimage Into the Past.

Although Coloma is the classic camp of the Mother Lode, Placerville, formerly called Hangtown, is perhaps the most famous.

Through Placerville passed the Overland Mail, the Pony Express and the Overland Telegraph. Along the banks of Hangtown Creek struggled a continuous line of freighters when news of the Comstock broke. Through it passed the gleaming Concord coaches of the Wells Fargo. Such industrial wizards as Phillip Armour and John Studebaker laid the nucleus of their fortunes here.

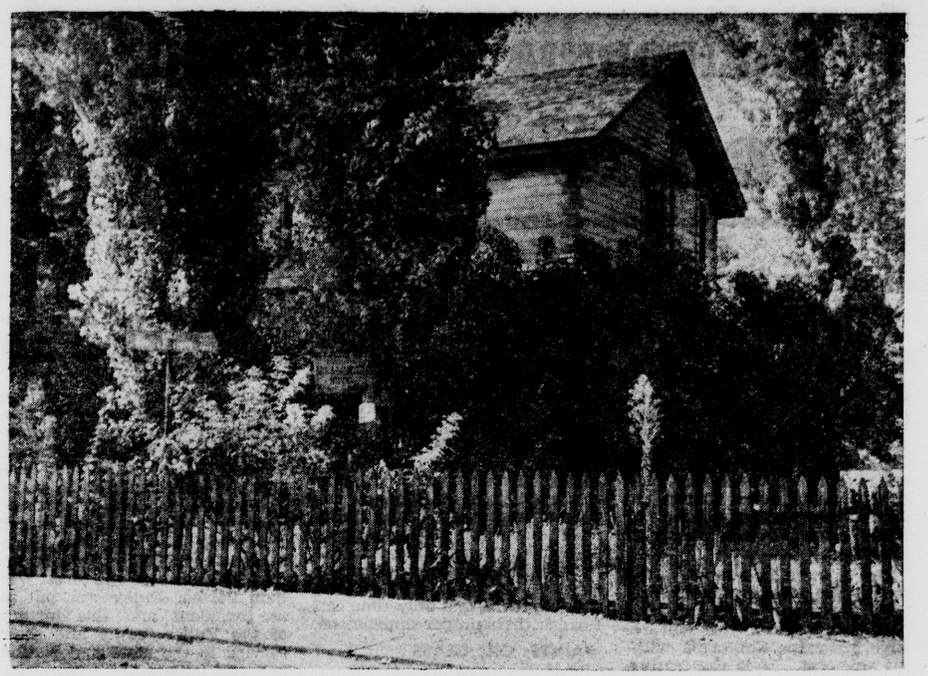
Hangtown Bell

Don't pass up the Hangtown bell, retired to the post office lawn. It once summoned the vigilantes, sounded fire alarms and lured sensation-seeking crowds to hangings in the Plaza.

Little but landmarks remain in Coloma where James Marshall discovered that first gold. He is buried beneath a huge monument on a hill beyond town. From atop it, his statue stares unseeingly over the "Cradle of the Goldrush."

Auburn, about 20 miles north of Coloma, is at the southern extremity of the Northern Diggings. When Claude Chana and his Indians found gold here (1848) they called the site Wood's Dry Diggings. Hordes from Auburn, N. Y., soon renamed the camp after their home city.

Grass Valley was and still is important. It was the home of Lola Montez and Lotta Crabtree. You'll find both on semi-circular Mill Street a few doors apart, the Crabtree home now a poultry shop and a "For Rent—Rooms" sign in the Montez yard.



Lola Montez home in Grass Valley. Born Maria Dolores Porris Gilbert, she lived to become Countess of Lansfeld. This house, where she resided from 1852 to 1854, has since been altered by the addition of a second story.

Lola Montez

Notorious and bewitching, Lola Montez was an international adventuress and a clever dancer. She encouraged the phenomenal talent of the child-actress, Lotta Crabtree, mining camp entertainer and, in later years, beloved toast of the American stage.

If I were to select one single city as representative of the Northern Diggings it might well be Nevada City. Here the flavor of the past still lingers. As in Placerville, old buildings rich in history, serve modern enterprises.

The National Hotel, where the rich moguls were once entertained, still flourishes. The considerably less pretentious Union Hotel occupies a site in continuous use by a hostelery since 1850. Deer Creek, once swarming with miners, still flows behind the Union.

Perhaps the most representative building of all is the Assay Office. Over its counters passed the first ore from the Comstock. You'll marvel at the original ornate wall paper and the gingerbread grill work above the counter.

Woman Gambler

If you inquire you'll learn the story of the only woman gambler of the Argonaut Country, French Eleanore Dumont. In 1850 she opened and conducted her own gambling establishment, dealing Vingt-er-un (Twenty-One) herself.

From this section of the 49er Highway you'll do well if you scramble by narrow roads to You Bet and Red Dog, both little more than ghosts. You'll not want to miss Dutch Flat or Emigrant Gap. If you have the time you can ferret out several other old sites, all replete in history of the heroic past.

North San Juan once had the main office of the first long distance telephone line in the west. In 1878 it was strung for 60 miles to connect the hydraulic mining centers of Milton and French Corral.

Today you can buy cheese and crackers for a quick lunch in a store doing business on the lower floor of the Masonic Hall (vintage 1863). That massive brick building with the iron doors on the main corner of the single intersection once housed the Bank, Opera House and Town Hall.

North San Juan was named by Christian Kientz, a Yankee who had fought in the Mexican War. He saw in the hill where he discovered gold, a likeness to San Juan de Ulloa, Mexico.

Between North San Juan and Downieville are a whole string of once prominent camps, sprinkled as indiscriminately as a tossed handful of pebbles. Note the expressive names on your map: Cutthroat Bar, Nigger Slide, Ranse Doddler.

Pelton Wheel

At Camptonville you'll see a monument erected in 1917 to the memory of Lester Pelton who invented the Pelton water wheel in 1878, revolutionizing the development of hydro-electric power.

At Depot Hill you'll hear about the Joubert Hydraulic Mine, in continuous operation by one family for a hundred years.

Downieville, on the North Fork of the Yuba River lies just 104 miles north of Placerville. In 1849 Major William Downie, accompanied by a Kanaka named Jim Crow, an Irishman, an Indian and ten Negroes, found the river rimmed with November's ice. But the area was so rich in gold the men began sifting the snowy gravel bars.

Provisions ran low. Far too late Major Downie selected nine men and Jim Crow to go out for supplies. He sent along enough of the raw new gold for payment.

Days passed. The carefully hoarded food ran lower and lower. Still the men did not return. None but the Kanaka ever came back and he not until

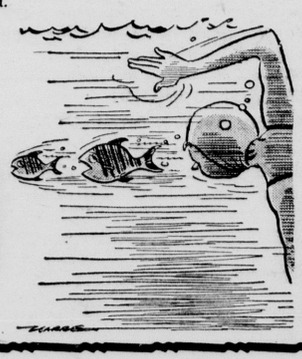
SWIMMER

Experts say that Delia Meulenkamp may be the best swimmer in the world. Whether or not the experts are right, the fact remains that this pretty Mill Valley girl is one more attractive proof that swimming is best sport for women's health and beauty. Feminine athletes frequently become weather-beaten and sinewy. Swimmers are always supple, graceful, well-formed. An eighteen year old graduate of Tamalpais High, Delia is no exception in long line of comely aqua queens from Annette Kellerman to Esther Williams. Delia specializes in 400 meter and 800 meter free style events. 800 meters is roughly one-half mile; free style means swimmer may use any stroke. In recent time trial, Delia has unofficially knocked seven seconds off 200 yard record. The San Francisco Bay area is long noted for its outstanding girl swimmers. Olympic Champion Ann Curtis also trained at San Francisco's Crystal Plunge, where Charlie Sava is ace coach. Even if you never become a competitive swimmer, you can acquire grace and poise by learning correct swimming techniques. Warning: no matter how skilled, never swim in pool alone or without guard.



In this feature, Magazine California each issue salutes a noteworthy California woman in a worthwhile profession.

Mary Louise O'Brien

In a brief foreword of a great book, "Pioneering With Fuller," this author modestly says: "This book is intended primarily as a biographical sketch of William Parmer Fuller, and is only secondarily a tabloid outline of the development of W. P. Fuller & Co. It is too soon to write the history of the company. History can be written only when the persons and events to be chronicled have become remote enough to fit smoothly into the inclusive panorama of their times. Personal acquaintance distorts them, and only time can furnish their proper dimensions.

PAINTS, OIL, GLASS

Ten years ago, Elmer E. Simmons, Marjorie G. January, W. P. Fuller, Jr., and Mary Louise O'Brien collaborated to produce a book called "Ninety Years—the Story of William Parmer Fuller." The author of the present work has incorporated much material from the earlier volume, for which she makes grateful acknowledgement. A search of New Hampshire and Massachusetts records has made it possible to add previous unknown details to the continuing story of a man, of his descendants, and of a century of their dealings in paints, oils and glass."

Several years ago W. P. Fuller, Jr., presented me with a copy of the volume "Ninety Years—The Story of William Farmer Fuller," and I have just received a complimentary copy of "Pioneering With Fuller," from Mr. A. H. Brawner, president of W. P. Fuller & Co.

OUR HERITAGE

This volume is far more than a sketch of Fuller, who came to California as one of many attracted by the gold discovery, his early experiences and the founding of a great industry. Lusty pioneers like Fuller discovered greater riches than gold, found opportunities for tremendous enterprises under our American system of free enterprise—the heritage left us.

The writer states, "eighty-six separate units of the company—parent branches, sub-branches and service stores—are operative today, in addition to warehouses and other factories; and a single year's production of paint, alone exceeds in value all the gold produced by all the miners in California in the busiest six months of the gold rush period."

EXCITING DAYS

Besides a factual story of the exciting days of the gold rush, it is equally important as a wonderful story of a great California family. W. P. Fuller, Jr., presided as president for 35 years and retired in 1949 after three years as chairman of the board. Following Mr. Fuller's retirement Alexander Harrison Brawner, grandson of the first William Parmer Fuller was put in as president and this history of the Fuller family and their service to the state and Nation is a real tribute to a worthy enterprise.

LOYAL TEAM WORK

With the loyal team work of thousands of employes, many with the company for years, Mr. Brawner marches steadily forward keeping the company in front with genuine service to America. In answer to my query Mr. Brawner writes, "To date the book has had only private circulation among our own employes and the good friends of the firm. It has not been sent to the public libraries, and there seems little likelihood that this will be done in the near future."

It is not for sale and I can't tell you how to obtain a copy. Perhaps if you have a friend in one of the Fuller branches you might borrow it. Every student of Californiana should read it.

Dere Ed: I bin readin' in the papers lately where some wise guy has come up with the idea that the automobile is contributin' to domestic bliss because it helps young fellers get around over more territory and thereby gives 'em a wider selection of cuties when it comes to pickin' out a wife.

In other words they don't have to settle down and marry the girl next door.

Now autos are all right and probably here to stay but I think this feller has mostly got a head that he uses for a hat-rack and nothin' else.

American men (and women, too) never let the lack of an automobile keep 'em from goin' places and doin' things. They went by boat under canvas and steam. They floated down rivers on rafts and hollow logs and poled themselves back up again in barges.

They settled the West with oxen and prairie schooners, Concord wagons, buckboards, stage coaches, hossback and muleback, and finally by rail.

When all else failed 'em they went on foot and wherever the men got to the gals in these parts sure knew they'd arrived.

Uncle Jasper says as a young man back in Punkinville he thought nothin' of walkin' 8 or 10 miles to a dance, dancin' all night, walkin' back home, doin' all the chores and shinnyin' up the lightnin' rod before goin' in to breakfast. Nora asks him what in the world he wanted to shinny up the lightnin' rod for. And he tells her:

How to Plant Bare Root Deciduous Trees and Plants

By GEORGE C. ROEDING, JR.
President, California Nursery Co.

This is the season of the year when orchard and garden plantings are being made "bare root," that is, with deciduous trees and plants that are dormant in winter. Fruit trees, roses, shade trees and many ornamentals are in this classification.

Proper soil preparation, and the right steps taken when planting are highly important to long range results, assuming of course that the home owner is careful to get sturdy plant materials from a reliable source. Prior to planting it is well to work the soil up and make sure that it is loose and friable, to provide good aeration and drainage. This may call for the addition of peat moss, to make the soil lighter and to retain moisture.

Planting Roses

When you get home from the nursery with young bare root rose bushes, plant them as soon as possible, but in any event make certain the roots are not permitted to dry out. While planting, keep them in a bucket of water.

Dig the hole large enough to include the roots without cramping. Mound up soil slightly in the center of the hole and set the roots slanting downward and outward. Fill in with soil two-thirds of the way, soak with a slow stream to settle, then add more soil and soak again. When planting is complete the bud union should be just above the settled surface of the soil. Remove any growth that may be starting below the bud.

Planting Fruit Trees

Before planting, fruit trees should be pruned to provide three or four symetrically placed lateral branches, as a framework for the future mature tree. These are shortened in to include only two or three buds, and all other growth removed, as well as broken roots. New growth is stimulated by making fresh cuts near the ends of all main roots.

Dig spacious holes, at least

CALIFORNIA Fashions

With Spring Prints Are Rage

By HELEN WEILL

Did the Ground Hog see his shadow? Then spring is in the air!

And the first thought for Dame Fashion is surely "What to wear?"

Now—as in so many Springs, the answer is most positively, "Prints." For print is the perfect news for Spring. Since weather is not yet warm, print makes the ideal choice for "under-the-fur-coat" too.

And as mi-lady brings out her shortie, or topper, or wee bolero (the newest of all) a print is her choice for sure. But this Spring of '52, prints are more unique and unusual than ever before.

Now we find prints that are not merged, but are clearly defined. Most have clean-cut color schemes, usually two-color, or they may have two-tones.

Snooping

If not definite prints, stripes are used. They too, are lovely in two-color, or in two-tone. They may be wide, or narrow, or a bold combination of both.

Having had a bit of time to snoop, I found a few selections that may intrigue you. So here goes, with new News in Prints, and their makers:

1. Violet striped cotton—by Galey and Lord.
2. Grey and black satin-striped cotton—by Avondale.
3. Green leaves and flowers on nylon—by William Winkler.
4. Red rose buds on cotton—by Everfast.
5. Outlines of a map on broadcloth—by Wamsutta.
6. Taffeta ink-spotted in various sizes (a lil' sis' to the dots)—by Folker.
7. Diamond chips on silk surah—by Martin-Regency.
8. Two-color silk shantung—by Onondaga.

Color

Along with print, you must consider color. And brought out from the Snooping Stock is the following:

1. Light over dark—such as white over black, or oyster over black. Banana or natural over Benedictine (exciting find this spring).
2. Contrast in color over color—such as light color over its dark color. Sky-blue coat over a green-green dress. This may sound shocking, but is most attractive!
3. Choice in color—such as blue, which seems to be the leading one. This is not the usual shade of navy blue. This is a clear true clean blue that harmonizes effectively with other colors.

Beige sweeps in with its every shade from the Bisque to the blond new Benedictine, to the luscious brown of the Brazilian coffee bean.

Pinks Romantic

Pink, still the most romantic of all colors, seems to have a bit of blue blended in it. The pinks run the gamut from powder pink, mauve to wine.

Greys that are pale and cloud-like go into deeper tones of pewter to charcoal.

Greens cover a wide field, from acid yellow, chartreuse, mint-frappe across to fur-green and forest green.

The shades of acid in every color, such as acid red, acid blue, acid yellow, acid pink and acid green.

All of these give Mi-lady a heap of a lot to seek . . . and of course, fun in the seeking. Along with her course in fun, a word might be dropped as to fun in saving too.

Savings, Too

For instance, with all the charm of print and color, new for Spring, you can add charm to your print of last year too. Correcting the length to mid-calf is the first step. Adding a new and fresh bunch of flowers at the throat could be the second step. And replacing the worn buttons for new and bright ones might be the third step.

For your still good navy sheer of other year, add a crisp white collar of pique with wide cuffs to match. With a wee-white-sailor and the new shortie fabric gloves in white, spring is welcome.

Shoes, too, may be revived and renewed. For though there are exciting new designs as in all other seasons, still the good reliables that are ever-comfortable are good. So a new polish job plus having the worn-off heels replaced for new, will give a new shoe to you.

And with Fashion being thoughtful in making the change of styles only gradual and not abrupt, you can make quite a game out of turning something old into something that seems and looks quite new . . . thus saving something for a "must have" later on.

DEPENDABLE, seasonless worsted stretches fashion dollars into lasting smartness. A two-piece costume with three-piece look is made in Forstmann's sheer worsted crepe Rosella. Three-button jacket appears to be part of a suit until removed to show a charming dress beneath with crepe skirt and blouse-like taffeta top. Curved brim velour sailor hat by Northridge. Blouse tie is pinned out to a lapel with a sparkling jewel and handsome mink scarf.

San Jose Teachers' College, California's first normal school, was established permanently at San Jose on March 11, 1870.

San Francisco has 5,000,000 cubic feet of cold storage, and 2,500,000 square feet of dry storage warehouse space.

Criswell Predicts

What People Will Do:

General MacArthur will soon have his life filmed, and the script will pull no punches, bringing the present Korean conflict into sharp debate. . . . Margaret Truman will defy the critics with a Metropolitan Opera House concert in May. . . . Look for a sharp increase in church attendance throughout the nation during 1952 and 1953. . . . On conviction of drunken driving, the state of California will cancel out the driver's license for a one year period, plus impounding the automobile! . . . The next trend in canned foods will be with a chili base, such as lima beans, kidney beans, cold packed corn kernels, potato flakes, hominy or grits. . . . One of our most glamorous film stars will soon face deportation charges for her open and wilful aid to the Reds!

'For Women Only'

Susan Duncan Day will soon publish her money saving recipes in book form. . . . You will soon be able to take advantage of a price war on men's slacks due to the manufacturer's over supply. . . . Checkered taffeta will find high favor this summer. . . . Grape, gauva and tawny yellow will be the fashionable colors in shoes this summer. . . . You will soon be able to buy quilted plastic seat covers for your home or automobile. . . . You can now buy wigs of spun glass that defy detectation for less than ten dollars. . . . All new sweaters will sport your monogram. . . . The latest hostess fad to sweep the country is the "Blind Date Party" where ten unmarried women meet ten unmarried men. . . . Casserole dishes will find great favor in the frozen food lines. . . . You will soon be able to buy a radio set with a fifty foot cord so that you can carry it from one room to the other without pulling the plug. . . . This is the month for clubs to serve their annual bean dinner. . . . Chinese cabbage, a feathery lettuce, will find great favor in your salads this coming summer. . . . White will be the favored color for all formal wear, even white velvet slacks. . . . The most effective diet to date is a small wafer which swells when it hits the stomach, giving the full feeling and killing off the appetite. This can be taken with a glass of water just before eating and even a fried chicken dinner would not tempt you! . . . The next style to sweep the nation will be the return to the dream girl look of 1911!

Punta del Ano Nuevo, the extreme southwest point of San Mateo County, was so named by Sebastian Vizcaino in 1603.

FAIR AND WARMER

Palos Verde Valley advertises itself as place where the sun shines 365 days a year. Am checking to find out whether people here don't know there are 366 days this year, or if they are conceding one rainy, foggy day. Man who knows all about the weather in these parts is O. W. Malmgren. This Official Weather Observer has been recording day's highs & lows for past 30 years. There are 10 observers in Cal who have served that long. Cost of complete weather station: about $175. In valley area, readings are normally taken at 6 p.m. in winter, 7 p.m. in summer. In 1932, four inches of snow fell in Blythe. Observer wrote government: "We don't know how to measure this stuff in desert." Salary for volunteer weather men: $0.00.

MERITORIOUS AWARD

A Nugget to Forrest Risley, Orland. Risley, cabinet maker and carpenter, offered a week's work to highest bidder. For this, Risley would receive no money, entire proceeds going to March of Dimes fund.

THEY SAY

"You talked me out of it." That's what would-be stick up man said to Mrs. Nel dal Porto, Arcata. Gunman demanded all the money in candy store cash register. Mrs. dal Porto refused. Gunman then said, well, heck, give me at least $10. Mrs. dal Porto still refused. Gunman finally left without getting even jelly bean.

Bare Root . . .

50 per cent larger than the circumference of the young tree's root system. Keep the top soil in a separate pile from any subsoil you remove, and smash all clods.

Hold the bud union at the surface level while pushing in the topsoil, first about the roots, then if necessary adding subsoil to fill almost to the surface level. Play a slow stream of water on the newly filled-in soil to settle it gently around the roots—a far better method than tamping.

It is well to add peat moss to the soil when refilling the hole. Provide a basin around the young tree by mounding up a ring of soil, like a circular dike. This should be of generous diameter, roughly able to accommodate about 25 gallons of water. Watering should always be slow and thorough, but not so frequent as to cause root damage from standing water. Good drainage, of course, is essential.

Cultivation and Fertilization

The young roses and trees should not be fertilized at the time of planting, but should be given a "grace period" of at least three months to become well established in the new location. Use a mulch of well-rotted cow manure, or a balanced commercial fertilizer. Be sure to place only on the surface, and not in direct contact with the roots. After applying, soak into the soil with a slow stream.

Irrigation usually is necessary in the dry season, but should not be overdone. Regularly investigate the condition of the soil just below the surface with a hoe, and irrigate only as needed. A mulch of peat moss or straw put in the basin will act as a cover to conserve moisture.

Three Basic Rules

Successful planting is really easy if one remembers only three fundamental principles. First, start with healthy vigorous plants and trees, obtained from a grower you can rely upon. Second, dig ample sized holes, in exposure locations properly selected for the particular type of plant or tree you have, and do not use fertilizer at the time you are planting. Third, and no rule is more important, be absolutely sure that you provide good drainage. Do this by working your soil well and mixing it with gypsum, sand or peat moss (or a combination), if its at all inclined to be thick or heavy. Observe these simple rules and you will be on your way to becoming a true "green thumb," enjoying top results from your planting activities.

Recipes for Better Meals at Lower Cost

By MARGUERITE FENNER,
Director of Home Economics, Pacific Gas & Electric Co.

If you "have a way" with casseroles, then you know the way to lower-cost meals that will bring compliments and smiles of satisfaction from the family. A good casserole is a real budget saver. A small amount of meat, fish or cheese tastes like plenty when you supplement it with flavorsome vegetables and thrifty foods such as tender macaroni or noodles. By cleverly combining foods that go well together, adding just the right seasonings, and serving the dish piping hot, straight from the oven—you earn the reputation of a master chef!

If you're looking for new recipes to add to your collection of casserole dishes, here are three that are heartily recommended.

PORK SAUSAGE CORN CASSEROLE

- 1 pound pork sausage links
- 3 tablespoons sausage drippings
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 1½ cups milk
- 1 No. 2 can whole kernel corn
- 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
- 1 cup cracker crumbs
- 2 tablespoons drippings for crumbs

Cook sausage in frying-pan until lightly browned, 8 to 10 minutes. Remove to plate and pour off all but three tablespoons fat. Make sauce in same pan by adding flour to fat, then stirring in milk. Stir until thickened; add corn and green pepper. Put half the crumbs in bottom of casserole, add creamed mixture, then most of the sausage links. Continue with more creamed mixture and top with remaining crumbs mixed with two tablespoons of the sausage drippings. Put remaining sausages on top. Bake in oven preheated to 350 deg. F. for 25 to 30 minutes. Four to five servings.

HAM AND EGG PIE

- ¼ cup chopped onions
- ¼ cup chopped celery
- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 6 tablespoons flour
- 2 cups milk
- 1¼ teaspoons salt
- 2 hard-boiled eggs
- 2 cups cubed cooked ham

Brown onions and celery in fat, blend in flour and add milk gradually, stirring until thick. Season, add sliced eggs and cubed ham. Put in round baking dish. Make regular biscuit dough, adding ¼ cup freshly grated cheese to recipe using one cup flour. Pat dough in a circle the size of baking dish and cut in pie-shaped pieces. Place dough wedges on top of meat mixture, slightly apart. Bake in oven preheated to 400 deg. F. for 30 minutes or until biscuits are well baked and golden brown. Four to five servings. Note: Use leftover cooked ham, or substitute canned luncheon meat or corned beef.

CHICKEN NOODLE SCALLOP

- 1½ cups cold cooked chicken, cubed
- ½ cup diced celery
- ¼ cup cut-up mushrooms
- 1¼ cups cooked noodles
- 1 egg
- 1½ cups milk
- 1 teaspoon salt
- pepper

Combine chicken, celery, green pepper and mushrooms. Mix with noodles and put in casserole. Beat egg slightly; add milk, salt and pepper. Pour over noodle mixture and bake 45 minutes in oven preheated to 375 deg. F. Five to six servings. Variations: Use turkey in place of chicken, rice instead of noodles, pimiento or chopped stuffed olives instead of green pepper.

FROZEN ORANGE JUICE MAKES FINE JELLY

Takes Only a Few Minutes to Make 8 Glasses

- 1 Can Frozen Orange Juice (6-oz.)
- 2½ Cups Water
- 1 Package (3½-oz.) M.C.P. Jam and Jelly Pectin
- 4½ Level Cups Sugar

Measure sugar into dry dish. Put the frozen orange juice, water, and M.C.P. Pectin into kettle and bring to a boil. Now, add the measured sugar, bring back to a full rolling boil, and BOIL EXACTLY 1 MINUTE. Remove from fire, let boil subside, skim. Pour into sterilized glasses leaving ½-inch for sealing with fresh paraffin. Makes 8 six-ounce glasses. (Cut out and keep this recipe.)

Almond Blossom Time . . . . .

ate theme chosen for this the third annual Almond Blossom Festival, sponsored by the Quartz Hill Chamber of Commerce. With a prevailing atmosphere of an old-time country fair, the Festival will feature a parade, carnival, soapbox derby, and desert polo.

Sharing the throne with the almond blossoms will be Queen Mary Moore and her attendants, Dale Tyler and Lois Wemple, students at Antelope Valley Joint Union High School. The parade will open the event Sunday morning when homemade floats using natural desert foliage and—of course—almond blossoms will form a procession through Quartz Hill. Youngsters will ride their "hot boxes" down the hill that gave the community its name. All through the day a country carnival will offer visitors its varied booths of food and games. A unique feature will be a game of desert polo. It is played in somewhat the same fashion as regular polo, only the horsemen use mallets made from brooms and they ride western style.

Trees in Bloom

The biggest attraction, needless to say, will be the blossoming trees themselves. Quartz Hill, situated 9 miles southwest of Lancaster and 8 miles northwest of Palmdale, boasts one of the largest acreages of almond trees in California. From one spot the visitor can look down on approximately 100,000 almond trees growing in 2000 acres of orchard land.

The first almonds were planted in the Quartz Hill district around 1904 by William Stratman, 90, who still lives in the community, and who has served as grand marshal of the festival the past two years. From its infancy the almond growing business has grown into a sizeable industry. Last year 566,995 pounds of almonds were produced in Antelope Valley bringing the growers a gross return of $164,430. In addition, an almond confection business has developed which produces candied almonds, hickory-smoked almonds, rum almonds, and other nut taste treats.

Thousands Visit

While people by the thousands have made it a habit for many years to visit Antelope Valley in the spring to see the almond blossoms as well as the wildflowers, it wasn't until three years ago that the residents of Quartz Hill decided to pay tribute to the almond. Their efforts have been well repaid. During the first two years, 10,000 to 15,000 persons have attended the festival. The blossoms have never failed, either. On both previous occasions, the trees displayed a profusion of blossoms.

When 100,000 trees burst forth into the springtime beauty of full blossom, it is a picture no artist can paint and one that a shutter-bug can only copy. Looking down on the orchards the visitor can imagine that Quartz Hill is blanketed with a veil of white smoke. And the sweet fragrance that permeates the air puts the troubles of the world out of mind. With the mountains that enclose Antelope Valley for a backdrop, the flowering orchards—for the moment—are paradise.

Recipe of the Week

By PATRICIA PANTRY

During Lent when fish is the mainstay on the menu, most every one likes to know ways of dressing it up a bit. These fish roll-ups, baked in a savory tomato sauce, are good enough for company meals yet inexpensive enough to serve often to the family. The tomato sauce is easy to make, for it's made from tomato paste. Still it has a rich color and flavor. Try baking plain fish fillets and steaks in it, too.

Fish Roll-Ups in Tomato Sauce

- 1 to 1½ pounds fish fillets (sole, cod, etc.)
- 16 soda crackers, coarsely crumbled
- 1 cup whole-kernel corn
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
- ½ cup chopped celery
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
- 1 egg

Tomato Sauce: Easily Made and Oh, So Good

To make tomato sauce: Cook chopped onion and green pepper in butter or margarine until slightly tender but not brown. Add tomato paste, water, lemon juice, salt, sweet basil, and cayenne. Bring to boil and pour over fish roll-ups. Here's how:

- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 3 tablespoons chopped onion
- 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
- 8 tablespoons tomato paste
- 1½ cups water
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- ¼ teaspoon sweet basil
- Dash Cayenne

If using frozen fillets, allow to thaw. Wipe fillets with damp cloth. Combine crumbled crackers, corn, celery, parsley, salt, pepper, melted butter or margarine and egg. Place a spoonful or two of stuffing on each fillet. Roll fillet up and fasten with skewer or toothpicks. Arrange in greased baking dish. Pour tomato sauce over fish and bake in a moderately hot (400 degrees F.) oven 25 to 30 minutes or until fish is done. Baste fish with tomato sauce several times during baking.
